Class of '84 Larger Than Expected; Major Search for Housing Launched

An admissions office nightmare: letting more freshmen through the gate than you have beds in which to put them.

It happened to Princeton University this month. Letters of acceptance were sent in April to approximately 2,160 applicants. The admissions office expected that 51 percent of the applicants would accept, and prepared for a Class of 1984 with about 1,105 members. The housing office of the University had set aside 1,106 freshman spaces.

But instead of 1,105, the University already has 1,200 and Stephen T. Miller, who directs the office of housing, has begun to hunt for space. Private homes, hotels – including the Nassau Inn – motels, what the University calls "uprated" rooms, which means more than one body to a room – all are being explored.

James W Wickenden, director of admissions, says the goal of his office was to increase the freshman class by one percent; instead, the increase turned out to be five percent, the highest in ten years.

"What happened?" is a question with a complex answer.

Mr. Wickenden points out that alumni and staff, aware of the desire to increase by one percent, may have "talked up" Princeton to students they knew who had been accepted, expressing great pleasure and enthusiasm, and convincing the students that they should accept Princeton's offer and not somebody else's.

Also, there is the economy. Although it might seem that students would choose a place less expensive than Princeton University, Mr. Wickenden sees it another way.

"In times like these, people invest in what they value," he observes, "and one of those things is high-quality education."

Admissions offices try for a "delicate balance," explains Bart Perlman, associate program director for the College Admissions Testing Program at Educational Testing Service, between the number admitted, and the number actually on campus in September

"Admissions officers use their past experience," he says. "You hope that what happened before, happens again. But if it were to go the other way – for example, if you get 75 fewer students than you expected, then you could have a serious budget problem. It's hard to tell which is worse – more than you expected, or fewer."

Harvard, Yale and Brown have also reported an increased "yield" – that's admissions terminology – from the acceptances they sent out. Harvard's increased from 74 to 77 percent; Yale's from 57 to 61 percent and Brown's from 50 to 52 percent, according to figures from their admissions offices.

At the moment, Princeton University seems to have about 75 too many freshmen. Last Wednesday, associate director of admissions Spencer J. Reynolds said he had around 1,200, but still had not heard from 12 or 15 who had been given an extension of decision time.

Ten Years in the Making, Master Plan Approved by Planning Board Friday

At two minutes past the witching hour of noon Friday, the Planning Board unanimously adopted the Master Plan. It has been in the making since 1970.

In two or three weeks, the board will begin to draft whatever major amendments it has in mind, preparing them for public hearings.

Highlights of the new plan:

- The Terhune extension – "loop road" " was removed from the map.
- Institute for Advanced Study land was restored to its original designation as a "Primary" site for conditional high-density housing
- The Lambert property was removed altogether from high-density housing.
- The Ettl Farm was retained as an Office-Research zone.
- Municipally-owned land on Herrontown Road was removed as a high-density housing site.
- The new "A" road between State Road and Terhune was kept on the map.
- The 72-acre tract north of Herrontown owned by W. Bryce Thompson was changed from Office-Research to "very low density" (three acre minimum) residential, with a recommendation for cluster development.
- The Medical Center will be in a hospital "zone," with building specifications set forth in a new zoning ordinance. In wording changes, "reasonable growth" was substituted for "moderate expansion" and the hospital told it cannot "unduly" – instead of "adversely" – affect the neighborhood with its changes.
- The Springdale extension to West Drive, and a "through" Province Line Road, were kept on the map.
- The Cherry Valley-State Road area was recommended for small-lot single-family homes,
- The Russell-Johnson tract was changed from a "Primary" conditional high-density site, to a "Secondary."
- On these sites, the number of high-density units cannot be more than 20 percent of the total number of units. Also, between 20 and 30 percent of the land area of such a site is all that can be used for higher densities.

As it stands now, there are five sites for conditional high-density, instead of the original six. Of these, three are "Primary": the Institute's land, the White farm between Mercer Road and the Lawrenceville Road and the Winant property on The Great Road. "Secondary" sites are the Seward Johnson property on the Lawrenceville Road and, as indicated above, the Russell-Johnson tract, next to Edgerstoune.

These changes were made by substantial majorities of the board The closest vote was the 7-6 for keeping the Ettl Farm as Office-Research.

By and large, changes relected the desires – frequently the impassioned desires – of Princeton residents who filled the meeting rooms night after night, reiterating their position.

There was one trade-off: eliminating the Lambert property as a high-density housing site, in return for keeping the Ettl Farm as OR.

Pleas to delay action on the Plan never really made it home to the board. Mrs. Penick warned that a six-month postponement could make the Plan part of election rhetoric, whereas shorter delays would mean quorum problems. She also warned of development pressures, and said, "There may not be any land left to plan for – the pace precludes leisure."

Removing the Terhune extension, reflecting perhaps the most vocal neighborhood campaign, was done over the strong protests of Borough members of the Board, all of whom voted against it except Mrs. Penick.

The night after John Degnan – who happens to be New Jersey's Attorney General and who lives at 19 Bertrand Drive – said he had it on good authority that the Department of Transportation planned a 92-A freeway for 1983, but that a "loop" would have a "negative impact" on such plans, Borough Mayor Robert W. Cawley exploded, "The attorney general is pretty far from the DOT and I haven't any damn faith in the DOT timetable!"

"We want to keep students on campus," Mr. Miller emphasized. "It's better for the students, and for us. We want to try and solve the problem 'in-house' if we can."

He said he had not been in touch with Princeton real estate agents. He has, however, talked with Rider College -- no space. He has talked with the Nassau Inn – no space.

According to Jeffrey Leif, general manager of the Nassau Inn, the hotel has 119 rooms with a capacity of 200. It is 85 percent occupied as a rule.

Whether the University's plight will affect Princeton's already tight housing situation is another part of the problem. Borough Mayor Robert W. Cawley said this week that a properly organized program could probably take care of the extra freshmen.

Mayor Cawley suggested that many Borough residents with large houses and unused bedrooms might be willing to take in a student.

The Borough does not want a big house devoted entirely to students, the mayor warned. Under the Borough's ordinance, there is a ceiling on the number of unrelated people who can live in one house. That maximum is five.

The mayor has discussed the problem briefly with University officials, he said, and invited them to "let me know" what the Borough could do.

Borough officials believe a Terhune extension would relieve Borough traffic.

Unanimous Approval. Changed wording regarding the hospital had been approved by Medical Center officials in conference with board member Charles Cornforth. Mayor Cawley won unanimous approval for a motion to keep boundaries between different uses, so that institutions like the hospital wouldn't spread into residential zones. He was forced, however, to delete a section referring to "greater intensity" of site development.

The hospital sustained wounds, both from board and citizens. Board member Jerome Rose spoke of the "immoderate program of vituperation" from the Medical Center, declared the board had been "victims of a campaign beyond what we deserved," and exclaimed over the word change, "....and the only difference is this bitty change!"

Mayor Cawley, pointing out that the hospital can build the five-story "J" building to ten stories, cautioned that "remaining development of the hospital must be very carefully examined. But they've been making Mt. Everest out of half a molehill," the mayor said

From the Center's neighborhood, Frank Wells, 36 Birch, presented a 102 - signature petition against hospital expansion, saying neighbors feared the hospital would cross Witherspoon.

Charles R. Sperling, 3t1 Witherspoon, charged that "a one-man show at the hospital is trying to delude this community. That hospital was given by Moses Taylor Pyne to us – not to the region." And John Hite, who lives out of the area at 601 Prospect, said: "If the hospital threatens us with moving – let them move."

Institute Land: 8 to 5. Changing the designation of the Institute land came with an 8-5 vote. Township Mayor Josie Hall told the board she would rather work with the Institute: "Nothing would be worse than developing that property 'as of right'," she said, referring to the Institute's right to build houses there under present zoning regulations. Board member Wendy Benchley observed that site problems would have to be solved no matter how the land was developed.

Constance Greiff warned that high-density development would open Quaker Road to Route One traffic. The Institute site, she said, is the farthest of any site from community facilities so that people living there would probably not patronize Princeton merchants. Besides, she said, "the land is the greatest natural detention basin in town."

Several have asked, Mrs. Penick reported, why "use" variances couldn't be obtained by developers, as a way of providing for lower-cost high density housing. That way, no specific sites would be designated.

At Mrs. Penick's request, board counsel Allen Porter explained that applications for these variances are only at the developer's initiative. In order to obtain one, he pointed out, a developer must show "special reasons" and New Jersey's courts question whether lower-income or higher-density housing is a "special reason."

In the board's final vote, only member Ralph Phillips was absent, but he had been present at all public hearings.

Carter, Kennedy, Reagan All on Ballot Tuesday; Anderson, Unnamed, Has Slate of Delegates, Too

If you want to vote for the standard standard-bearers in either the Republican or Democratic primaries on Tuesday, you won't have any trouble figuring out how to do it.

But if you want to vote for Congressman John B. Anderson, you need a guide through the labyrinth. Incidentally, you are entitled to vote for Mr. Anderson only if you are a registered Republican. This applies to long-term Republicans and to Democrats or independents who changed parties so they could vote in the primaries for Anderson.

Look for Column 5 on the Republican side of the ballot under "Moderate Republican Alternative." In the Fifth Congressional District -- of which Princeton is a part -- Anderson delegates are Patricia N. Cherry, Robert Golden, Sheldon Sturges, Astrida Apse and Elizabeth Hutter. Vote for all five if you want to support Mr. Anderson.

This "Moderate Republican Alternative" is a slate of delegates originally formed to gain the Republican nomination for Anderson. Although Mr. Anderson is no longer seeking the Republican nomination, this slate of delegates, according to one of them -- Mr. Sturges -- "provides a viable way for voters to express their approval of (Mr. Anderson's) candidacy."

Supporters of Millicent Fenwick, who is facing a primary contest within the Republican party for her seat in the House of Representatives, point out that her position on the ballot makes it seem as though she and her opponent, Larry Haverly, are running-mates, in spite of the instruction to "Vote for one."

Although George Bush headquarters in Princeton will close, in light of Mr. Bush's announcement that he will turn over his delegates to Ronald Reagan, some Bush supporters are saying they will vote for his delegates anyway, as a symbolic gesture of support.

Locally, there are no primary contests for public office in either party.

Borough Council candidates are Democrats Nelson van den Blink and Robert McChesney and Republican Frederick R. Sidon. Borough Republicans had hoped to find a second candidate for a write-in campaign on Primary Day, but have not done so.

At the district level in the Borough, there is a primary contest in District Four between incumbent John Bleimeier and challenger Gary Grover.

Township candidates, unopposed in their parties, are Republicans Winthrop Pike and incumbent William Cherry, and Democrats Barbara Cantrill and incumbent Kate Litvack.

PARADE FRIDAY

To Honor Veterans. Princeton is a town that holds fast to the traditional. The annual Memorial Day Parade will be held this Friday at 7, because Friday is May 30, and May 30 is the traditional Memorial Day.

Governor Brendan T. Byrne is expected to take part in the parade which will start at 7 at Princeton Avenue and Nassau Street and proceed along Nassau Street to the Battle Monument and Borough Hall. There, Richard W. Baker Jr. of Armour Road, Captain, U.S. Army Ret. will speak, as will municipal officials and officials of the N.J. American Legion and Posts 76 and 218.

A memorial wreath will be placed at the foot of the monument by Thomas J. Lynch of Post 76 and Robert Ball of Post 218. Donald W. Griffin will be honorary Parade Marshall and master of ceremonies, and D. Don Richards, general chairman of Post 76, and Charles Streater, Post 218 chairman, will head the veterans and invited organizations.

The line of march will have four bands: the Volunteers of Lambertville, McGuire Air Force Band of the East; Gino Mule Band of Trenton and the championship Black Watch Junior Drum and Bugle Corps of Willingboro, who will give a brief concert during the monument ceremonies.

Other Memorial Day activities include a service at Princeton Cemetery Friday morning at 9:30 sponsored by Post 218 and a memorial service at the Morning Star Church of God in Christ Church on Birch Avenue at 11.

The graves decorating committee, David McCloskey chairman, will oversee the placing of over 1,000 American flags on graves of veterans in Princeton, St. Paul's and other area cemeteries.

WAREHOUSE BURNS

On Pine Street. A cinder block warehouse at 69 Pine Street, used by the owner of Nassau Interiors to store furniture, was the scene Sunday of what Borough police are calling a fire of suspicious origin.

"We don't know for sure how it started, but we think it was started by kids playing inside," said Capt. Theodore Lewis. The fire started on a couch, he said. "The building was not secure."

Although there was not much stored furniture inside, according to Assistant Fire Chief Ralph Hulit Jr., he reported that some mattresses, sofas and chairs were damaged by the fire.

All of the windows were blown out by the heat. Chief Hulit added that the roof rafters and floor were charred and some interior partitions were burned. All three Princeton fire companies responded to the 1:15 p.m. alarm.

Car Engine Ignites. There was a fire in the engine compartment of a car shortly after 10 Friday evening.

LET'S TALK ABOUT

HOW TO HAVE A LAWN IN THE SHADE OF A TREE

with Sam deTuro

Woodwinds Associates

The secret to growing grass under a shade tree is balance: your lawn trees and the grass beneath them are in competition for both food and sunshine. The trick is to try to give each it's share!

When a tree is shallow-rooted it robs your lawn of the food and moisture you so carefully supply ...if you're not specifically feeding the trees, the roots grow toward the surface to get what they need. The answer, then, is to feed the tree, using a well-balanced tree food injected directly into the area of the roots; this will help develop the roots at their proper level. (However, don't stop feeding the grass.)

To balance the sunshine, a tree can be thinned by pruning, so that sunlight will filter through to the grass. A good practice, too, is to raise the branch level by pruning away lower limbs which won't be missed anyway.

One or two other things to keep in mind. As the weather gets hotter this summer, be very sure that you do not cut your grass too short. The recommended ideal height for grass is 2-2½", when you cut at greater heights, your grass tends to grow at a slower rate, so it's less work in the long run! Remember to keep grass free of leaves in the fall...most grasses cannot stand a heavy covering of leaves.

If all else fails, you can always consider a ground cover beneath a tree which provides dense shade. Pachysandra often does much better than Periwinkle or English Ivy, and is most attractive as well.

WOODWINDS is always happy to answer any question you may have concerning your valuable trees and shrubs; please call us a 924-3500 told police that she had just driven into a parking lot off Guyot Avenue next to Conti's when a young man noticed sparks and smoke coming from the engine compartment. It was put out with extinguishers from Conti's and Ptl. David Wilbur's patrol car.

Her car was towed to a Route 1 repair station. Police said the probable cause was a gas leak or carburetor backfire.

There was a small fire at noon Sunday at 79 Wheatsheaf Lane.

Police said that owner Henry Kalmus had attempted to burn weeds off his patio with gasoline and the gas can caught fire.

MADDEN IS PRESIDENT

Of School Board. Dale Madden was elected president of the school board by a 7-2 vote at the board's May 20 meeting. "No" votes were cast by Joseph P. Moore and Robin Wallack. Mrs. Wallack did not run for re-election to the president's chair.

Ann McGoldrick was elected vice-president by a vote of 8-1. No one ran against either Dr. Madden or Mrs. McGoldrick. Dr. Madden's second three-year term on the board will expire in 1981. This is Mrs. McGoldrick's first term.

Mrs. Wallack explained that she voted against Dr. Madden because he had missed "one-third" of the board's meetings. A member of the IBM staff in White Plains, Dr. Madden is often away on business.

ANERSON HERE

For Fund-Raiser. A fund-raising cocktail party for independent presidential candidate John Anderson, with a minimum admission fee of $100, is on the calendar for this Wednesday at 6. It will be held in a private home in Princeton.

Invitations, suggesting a $1,000 contribution and setting forth the minimum, have been mailed to 1,500 potential donors. The candidate is expected to arrive at the reception at 6:30, according to a schedule from the 8 Palmer Square headquarters of the Anderson campaign in this area.

Mr. Anderson will arrive in Philadelphia from Houston in late afternoon, traveling by car to Trenton for a press conference in the State Assembly Chamber in the Capitol. The public is invited to attend, and the conference is scheduled to start at 5:40. Mr. Anderson is expected to remain at the Princeton reception until 8 and will be in Princeton overnight.

DRIVER IS CHARGED

After Knocking Down Meter. A Somerset driver, Ronald S. Cohen, 30, was arrested at 12:50 Friday morning, after Ptl. William Nathan and Sgt. Peter Hanley saw him knock over a parking meter in the Witherspoon Street lot.

Cohen was taken to headquarters where he was charged with driving while under the influence of drugs, possession of a controlled dangerous substance, and possession of CDS in a motor vehicle. He was later released on $25 bail, pending his appearance in court here.

Michael C. Hale, 22, of Trenton, was issued five summonses after Ptl. Randy Sutton stopped his car last week on Nassau Street at Palmer Square.

Newcomer Expected

As June goes skipping
On its way,
I hope it proves
As nice as May

Maybe just a bit drier, after all that rainfall that May produced in its first three weeks. Hard to believe, though, the ground is a bit too dry again and the next showers will be welcomed by anyone growing anything.

They are not expected before Friday, which would give us nine straight days without precipitation. Temperatures will continue to range from the low 50s at night to the high 70s by day.

Hale was charged with driving while his license and registration were suspended, operation of an uninsured car, no driver's license in possession, no registration or insurance card in possession and using the license of another driver.

He was later turned over to the Trenton Police Department, after Borough police learned he was wanted there on two contempt of court warrants.

When Ptl. Sutton stopped a car on Washington Road last week for a motor vehicle violation, he also detected an odor of marijuana inside the car.

Ptl. Sutton charged the driver, Thomas H. Tammaro, 26, of Hightstown with possession of under 25 grams of marijuana when he also noticed a bag of marijuana in the car. Tammaro was also charged with failure to display registration plates.

Township police arrested Gregory M. Davis, 26, of Trenton after they had received a call at 9:30 Monday morning from a resident in the Battle Park area reporting a woman screaming. Police, in checking, discovered that Davis was having an argument with his girlfriend.

A further check revealed that he was wanted by Egg Harbor City police on two contempt of court speeding warrants in March. He was later released on $82 bail for his court appearance in Egg Harbor City. Township police made no charges against Davis.

Renee Steinhagen, 24, of Little Neck, N.Y. was arrested early Friday morning and charged with shoplifting a 75-cent container of yogurt from the Wawa Market on University Place.

She was issued a summons calling for her appearance in Borough court June 4.

PARENTS FORM GROUP

On School-Closing. A group of parents, identifying themselves as SOS ("Save Our Schools") committee, has formed to try to persuade the school board to reconsider the board's decision to close one of Princeton's four elementary schools.

The organization meeting of the new group was held May 10 at Riverside School. Parents with children in all four schools attended the meeting, and divided their number into groups to study various aspects of the original report that recommended closing a school. Population projections, and criteria for defining educational excellence are particular concerns, parents said.

SOS expects to present to the June 10 school board meeting "a coherent and persuasive argument to the board," hoping to convince board members to reconsider, or to delay a final decision until "other sides of the question have been considered."

Florence Cucchi, 47 Southern Way, was chosen to head the group. Two representatives from each school will serve as coordinators. They are Arthur Meisel and Mrs. Cucchi, Riverside, Marjorie Fleming and Madeline Blinder, Community Park; Betty Klingebiel and Eva Collins, Johnson Park and Rhona Porter and John Bailey, Littlebrook.

Citizens interested in SOS are invited to call Mrs. Cucchi, 921-7852 or Miranda Short, 924-2457.

Woman Who Lost $300 Has It Returned By Youth Who Made Sure He Found Her

When 13-year-old Shannon Grover noticed three envelopes lying on the sidewalk on Linden Lane while doing his paper route Thursday, he discovered that one of them contained $300 in cash.

His friends flocked around, excited by his good fortune and offering advice. "Finders Keepers," they said, advising against any attempt to locate the owner.

But Shannon, who is the son of Gary and Sandra Grover and grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Grover, all of Chestnut Street, kept a cool head and a wiser counsel. The money was in a bank envelope that bore no name or address, but there were also two St. Paul's Church envelopes containing checks with the name and address of a Linden Lane resident.

He wrote a note: "I believe I have something you lost" in red pencil with his name and phone number and placed it in her mailbox.

The woman who had noticed her bag was open when she boarded a bus for New York City where she planned to spend time tending a sick friend, found the note on her return. She telephoned Shannon on Sunday, established herself as the rightful owner, and the envelopes were returned, contents intact.

Shannon received "a lovely reward" and the glow that comes from knowing you've done the right thing.

CYCLIST IS INJURED

When Struck by Truck. A 20-year old bicyclist, John Brown, 12 Pine street, was injured Friday when he attempted to turn left from the Viking Furniture driveway onto Nassau Street.

He was admitted to Princeton Medical Center for repair of a severe laceration of the face and abrasions of the upper right arm. According to police, Mr. Brown attempted to steer between a parked truck and another being driven by Thomas J. Durcanin of Trenton. The rear side of the truck struck the cyclist, knocking him to the ground.

Ptl. David Alston, who charged Davis with failure to keep right on a bicycle, noted in his report that the bike had no braking devices of any kind.

Car Hits Pole. Betty A. Patrick of Hamilton Square, suffered moderate injuries Friday afteroon when her car left Quaker Road and struck a pole between Quaker Bridge Road and Mercer Road.

The victim told Ptl. John Clausen, who investigated, that she wanted to be treated for her injuries in Hamilton Square. Her car sustained front end damage and had to be towed away.

HEARING DATE SET

For Hospital Complaint. The National Labor Relations Board has set November 17 for the hearing on the board's complaint against the Medical Center at Princeton. The complaint charges that the Center, by withholding from hospital security guards a cost-of-living raise granted to other employees, is engaging in unfair labor practice.

The complaint says the Center is also engaged in unfair labor practice by refusing to bargain collectively with the security guards union.

The hospital has ten days from the May 22 date of the complaint to file an answer. If it doesn't reply, the charges are held to be true.

SIGN IS STOLEN

From Peacock Alley. A metal and glass Peacock Alley sign next to the Peacock Inn on Bayard Lane was stolen last week.

Shaped in the form of a shield, the sign was estimated to be 30 to 40 years old and was valued by its owner at $150 to $200.

A portable typewriter in a brown case valued at $20 was stolen Thursday between 5 and 8:30 a.m. from a study alcove in the Woodrow Wilson building.

Soda, candy, cigarettes and liquor were also on the minds of thieves last week.

Someone smashed a window next to a door of the Princeton Wine and Liquor Store, 174-76 Nassau Street, reached in and took two quarts of rum ($5.69 each) and three pints of rum ($2.55 each). A Patton Avenue resident called police at 1:46 Monday morning to report the window broken.

An unknown amount of cigarettes was stolen from Agabiti Deli, 236 Nassau Street, which was entered by an intruder who broke a side window. The theft was discovered at 8:14 Tuesday morning.

All the change was removed last week from a soft drink machine in the basement of McCarter Theatre, where a windbreaker and two T-shirts valued at $35 had also been removed from a display case in the lobby. The same day, another soft drink machine in the basement of Green Hall on the Princeton University campus was forced open and an undetermined amount of money taken.

A soft drink machine at the William Sward Company building, 22 Chambers Street, was pried open during the weekend and its coin box emptied. Entry was gained by forcing a window of the basement boiler room, police said.

Township police received a call from a student at 2:50 Monday morning that two suspects were breaking into candy and food vending machines in the basement of Jadwin Hall on campus.

A candy machine was forced open and a second machine appeared to have been opened by a key. Police recovered a cash box on the floor.

Ptl. Renn Kaminski searched the area but was unable to locate any suspects.

MONEY IS TAKEN

In Three Entries. Money was the only thing taken in three entries reported last week by police.

A 14-year old Randall Road resident lost $55 when his leather Boy Scout wallet was taken from his room. The victim told police that someone apparently had climbed to the garage roof and opened an unlocked window to his room. He added that he had closed the window before leaving for school and it was open when he returned home. Sgt. Robert Heacock investigated.

A Rosedale Road resident left her purse on a kitchen table one afternoon early last week and discovered it missing the following morning.

Gone was her navy blue canvas purse valued at $15 which contained $15 cash. She told police that she had heard a noise in the kitchen during the night. The doors to the house had not been locked, police said.

A Borough resident last week reported the theft from a room of her beige leather and blue cloth pocketbook containing $10 and ID cards.

Police said that a pane of glass had been removed from a cellar door to gain entrance. The theft was reported at 6:30 Wednesday morning.

CAMERA IS STOLEN

"Buyer" Is Out $20. Everyone likes a bargain, but a Borough merchant is out $20 because he knew that a bargain he had been offered on a camera was too good to be true.

According to police, the merchant was approached in his store at 8:30 Saturday evening by a tall, black man with a moustache, who told him he needed money and offered to sell him a 35mm Canon camera and flash unit for $20. The next day the merchant told police he wanted to have the camera checked out.

Ptl. Chris Boutote ascertained that the camera had been stolen just hours before, between 4:30 and 6:45, from a room in Brown Hall on the Princeton Seminary Campus. Also taken was $5 in coins. Police later returned the camera to its student owner.

Bicycle Auction June 7

The Township police department will acution off 52 bicycles and two mopeds on Saturday, June 7, starting at 10 at Township Hall, Route 206. Some are in need of repair.

The bicycles and mopeds may be viewed ahead of time between 9 and 10 a.m. They are lost or stolen bicyles recovered by police that have never been claimed by their owners.

RESERVATIONS DUE

For Fete Dance. To herald this year's Olympic Fete, a "Gold Medal Medley" gala will be held Friday, June 13, from 6 to midnight in the main tent on the Washington Road Fete grounds. Proceeds from this dinner-dance and the June 14 Fete will benefit the Medical Center at Princeton Foundation.

Dance chairmen are Barbara Simands and Sandy Bell. A cash bar will be available at 6, and the National Swedish Gymnastics Couples team will perform at 7. Dinner will be at 8, prepared by Peter Vielbig and Tom Root of Princeton Caterers.

In addition to a first-rate band, The Don Young Band will play and sing American tunes spanning the last half century. A champagne preview and sale featuring the work of area artists and sculptors will be held from 6 to 7:30.

Anyone wishing to attend is welcome. The cost is $15 per person. Space is limited and reservations must be made early. Mail checks, payable to the "June Fete" to Mrs. Curt Hoopingarner, 21 Van Wyck Drive, Princeton Junction, 08550.

WET WEATHER AHEAD

For Next 30 Days. Near-normal temperatures and above-normal rainfall amounts are expected for New Jersey over the next four weeks, according to Anthony Broccoli, agricultural meterologist at Rutgers University.

Afternoon high temperatures in the state climb from the low 70s in the middle of May to the low 80s by mid-June, with overnight lows of around 50 in mid-May rising to around 60 over the following four weeks, he said. He is a member of the department of meterology and physical oceanography at the State University's Cook College.

Normal rainfall for the mid-May to mid-June period is three and a half inches. The weather outlook issued by the prediction group at the National Weather Service's Climatic Analysis Center in Washington, D.C., calls for precipitation above that amount during the next four weeks, but doesn't estimate how much.

"New Jersey farmers and home gardeners can expect wet grounds to hamper outdoor working conditions during rainy periods, particularly in poorly drained areas," said Mr. Broccoli.

Soil temperatures across New Jersey are near or above the 60-degree mark, which is warm enough for the planting of cucumbers, eggplants, lima beans, peppers and snap beans, he said. Farmers and home gardeners should still be prepared to protect their sensitive crops on any night when temperatures are predicted to fall as low as the mid-30s, as frost can occur at even these temperatures.

Speaking about the monthly weather outlooks themselves, Broccoli said that such outlooks have only "marginal skill." "Based on 30 years of forecasts," he said, "monthly temperatures are forecast correctly 42 percent of the time, as compared with 33 percent by random chance. Monthly precipitation is forecast correctly 52 percent of the time, as compared with 50 percent by random chance."

TO PLANT MARIGOLDS

In Lawrence Township. Mrs. Carlota Dolich of Pennington, director of the Marigold Society of America, and Mrs. C. Jane Boning of Lawrenceville, a member of the national MSA board, will co-sponsor Lawrence Township's first "Marigold Day" on Saturday with the Township's Department of Parks and Recreation.

YMCA to Teach Swimming

Concerned that drowning has become the third leading cause of accidental death in the United States, the YMCA will hold Learn-to-Swim Weeks from June 9 to 13 and June 16-20.

Registration is for one week for children ages 6 to 12. For more information, stop by the YMCA on Paul Robeson Place or call 924-4825.

Marigold seeds provided by the society have been distributed to school and garden groups to be grown and planted throughout the community. Those participants along with representatives of each cultural, civic and volunteer organization will meet at the Municipal Building at 10:30 to plant 1,000 marigolds. Area school students will also be represented.

Organizations will be presented with a certificate of appreciation and additional marigold seeds, "Seeds of Friendship" to plant elsewhere in Lawrenceville. Music will be provided by the Lawrence High School Cardinal Marching Band, directed by Keith Csolak.

TRIPS SCHEDULED

For Windsor Seniors. Two trips are available to West Windsor seniors citizens during June.

There will be a trip to Woodbridge Mall on Wednesday, June 4, followed by lunch at The Manor in West Orange. The bus will leave the parking lot of the West Windsor Branch of the Mercer County Library at 9. There is no charge for transportation, but lunch will cost $9.25 including tax and tip.

Free transportation will be provided Saturday, June 7, to the Heritage Festival in Trenton. The bus will leave the Princeton Junction firehouse on Alexander Road at 10 and the West Windsor library at 10:15. Reservations for both trips will be taken at the West Windsor Senior Center in the Maurice Hawk School on Tuesday and Friday afternoons from 1 to 4. They also can be made by calling Edna Bush at 452-2514.

TOWN TOPICS is delivered without charge to every home in Princeton Borough and Township and to part or all of West Windsor, Lawrence, Hopewell, Montgomery, South Brunswick and Franklin Townships and Griggstown. At all newsstands, including TOWN TOPICS' office, it costs 25 cents

Alexander Robertson Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Robertson of Ridgeview Road, has graduated from Colgate University with a bachelor of arts degree in chemistry. He was a member of the varsity baseball team and is a member of the Beta Theta Pi fraternity. He expects to attend graduate school at Princeton University in the fall.

The sculptor Joseph Brown, professor emeritus of visual arts at Princeton University, will be awarded an honorary degree from Temple University at commencement ceremonies this Thursday.

An alumnus of Temple, Mr. Brown taught sculpture and boxing at Princeton for almost 40 years. He was captain of Temple's boxing team in 1929 and later turned professional, winning nine straight bouts as a light heavyweight. His interest in sculpture developed when he modeled for sculptor Walter Hancock and illustrator Douglas Duer, and he spent seven years as an apprentice to the late R. Tait McKenzie.

Mr. Brown's heroic statues stand outside Veterans' Stadium in Philadelphia, Johns Hopkins University, Princeton and elsewhere. He designed the champanzee dwelling at the Philadelphia Zoo and numerous AAU, Ivy League and other athletic associations' trophies and busts. He also has portrait busts of John O'Hara, John Steinbeck, Norman Thomas, Odetta, Leadbelly, Archibald MacLeish and James Michener to his credit.

We believe Ted Kennedy to be a man of competence, compassion and leadership. During his 17 years in the Senate, he has stood up for us on every critical issue concerning health care, quality education, equal rights for all Americans, and a foreign policy based on consistency, fairness and reason.

Ted Kennedy needs your support and he has earned it. His leadership qualities are proven. Now is the time to give him our support.

We endorse the candidacy of Edward M. Kennedy for the Democratic nomination for President.

Please vote in the primary on June 3rd.

A Clarification.
To the Editor of Town Topics:

I would like to clarify a statement made in your May 14, 1980 issue pertaining to the Master Plan. It stated that my late husband, Bertrand L. Gulick, Jr., had sold parts of the Gulick Farm where houses now stand.

During the mid-1950s, a portion of the farm, which was owned by my husband's late mother's estate (Mrs. Bertrand L. Gulick, Sr.), had to be sold to settle her estate which included the payment of federal and state inheritance taxes.

My husband did everything possible to save our historic home, school house, barns and out buildings, and surrounding acreage, to preserve the core of the Gulick Farm which has been in the family for centuries and stands at the eastern entrance to Princeton, which also is a part of the historical village of Kingston.

We are proud of our heritage and wish to maintain its continuance for many many decades to come.

Credit Where It's Due.
To the Editor of Town Topics:

Lynn A. Koch's review of the Itzhak Perlman Concert with its enthusiastic praise of "Music-at-McCarter" prompts us to write and give credit where credit is due.

William W. Lockwood, Jr. is the person responsible for organizing the series, and it is his hard work and skill that has made the series as strong and as popular as it is. In fact, the 1980-81 Music-at-McCarter series is already sold out on subscription.

We are pleased indeed to be able to present such a fine series to the people of Princeton who have made our first season at McCarter so rewarding and fulfilling.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

While we were delighted by the article (TOWN TOPICS issue May 14) printed about our office at 342 Nassau Street, we would like to point out a few minor errors for the benefit of those interested in early houses.

The date on the lintel over the fireplace appears as 1730 not 1780. While such data can't be counted as accurate in itself, the style of the fireplace, with the bake-over being situated in the back of the hearth, is typical of the

The Pottery Barn's Best Glass Sale Ever!
10-50% Off Every Piece of Glass in the Store

The Glass Barn

Lots of our friends call us the Glass Barn because we sell so much of it. And now we've got a system to take the mystery out of buying it.

Come into any Barn and see our tremendous selection of glasses clearly divided into 3 categories. Good—$.50 to $2.75. Better—$2.95—$4.50. Best—$4.75 to $8.95 (that's right, even our most expensive stemware is only $8.95).

At a glance, the work's all done. You can choose the right glass for your needs and pocketbook. Let good, better, best be your guide.

Come in and see how much easier it is to buy glass. Especially during our Annual Glass Sale. Good at the Pottery Barn is still the best.

Good $.50—$2.75

Mass produced, and usually machine made, good glass is designed to stand up to lots of handling. Durable, it's often used commercially in restaurants. We have the finest available selection of good glass.

Better $2.95—$4.50

Our better glass is mostly hand-made. Frequently right here in the U.S.A. It is more refined and elegant than the good glass, but not as delicate as our very best. A choice compromise between the two.

Best $4.75—$8.95

Our best glasses are generally our own imports, made especially to meet the Barn's high standards. Best glass is distinguished by its superior clarity and color, thinner stem and over-all elegance. Our best glass is always hand-made.

Carter-Reagan Race in New Jersey Is Close; Anderson Draws Support—Big Undecided Vote

Ronald Reagan, who has in effect captured the Republican nomination, and Jimmy Carter, on the verge of locking up the Democratic nomination for President, would run a close race in New Jersey if the election were held today.

An Eagleton Poll conducted during the first half of May finds Reagan leading Carter by 4 percentage points – 38 to 34 percent, with the remainder not choosing. This is a dramatic change from Eagleton's February survey which found Carter leading Reagan by 35 percentage points.

Illinois Congressman John Anderson's planned independent candidacy appears to be viable in New Jersey. With Anderson in the race, the Rutgers-based Poll finds Carter and Reagan each getting 29 percent with Anderson receiving 21 percent. The remaining 21 percent are either undecided or say they will not vote.

Senator Edward Kennedy, badly trailing Carter in delegates, fares far worse against Reagan than does Carter. The May survey of 1,000 New Jerseyans finds Reagan holding a 50 to 29 percent lead over the liberal Massachusetts Democrat. Last February, the Poll found Reagan and Kennedy running evenly in the state.

In commenting on what the poll results might mean in terms of New Jersey's primary on Tuesday, Poll Director Cliff Zukin said, "While Carter appears to be the stronger of the two Democrats and Reagan the stronger Republican, who actually wins the primary may depend on which candidates get their supporters out to vote. With the nominations all but decided turnout may be unpredictable. However, the New Jersey presidential primary will mean very little in terms of who the nominees are. Carter and Reagan will certainly capture enough delegates in the remaining primaries to go to the convention with comfortable majorities."

Independents Favor Reagan. An examination of the Carter-Reagan matchup reveals that Reagan does better at holding members of his own party and attracting Independents than does Carter. Independents support Reagan over Carter by a margin of 40 to 29 percent with 18 percent undecided or preferring someone else and 13 percent saying they would not vote. Republicans support Reagan over Carter by 68 to 18 percent, while Democrats prefer Carter by a margin of 56 to 20 percent.

A large part of Reagan's support is made up of people dissatisfied with President Carter. Of the 384 people who prefer Reagan, only 43 percent say they are voting more "for Reagan" while 49 percent say they are voting more "against Carter." Six percent both like Reagan and dislike Carter.

Two-thirds of the 338 people who prefer Carter -- 67 percent, say they are casting a positive vote for the President, while 27 percent are casting a negative vote against Reagan. Two percent say they both like Carter and dislike Reagan.

John Anderson capitalizes on the dissatisfaction with Carter and Reagan, drawing support about evenly from both candidates. Of the 211 people who support Anderson in a three-way contest, 51 percent say they are motivated by their liking for Anderson while 40 percent say they are supporting Anderson because they find neither Carter nor Reagan attractive.

In the three-way matchup, 63 percent of the 293 Reagan supporters feel favorable toward their candidate while 28 percent are voting against the other two. Eighty-two percent of the 290 people supporting Carter are actively for him while 16 percent are unhappy with the other two alternatives.

A Switch to Anderson. When asked who they would prefer if Anderson was included in the election, 19 percent of the people who supported Reagan in his two-person race with Carter switched to Anderson, as did 17 percent of those who initially supported Carter. Anderson received support from 28 percent of the 272 New Jerseyans who were initially undecided, preferred another candidate or said they would not vote in a Reagan-Carter election.

Anderson's support comes primarily from Independents

If Anderson Has 'Reasonable Chance' His Support Will Increase Next Fall

The New York Times reported this week that John Anderson may have the ability to carry the eight largest northern states next fall -- if he is perceived by voters to have "a reasonable chance." The states together have a total of 216 electoral votes, with 269 needed for victory.

The Times said that a Louis Harris poll asked: How would you vote today, and how would you vote in November, if Mr. Anderson seemed to have "a reasonable chance" then? The first question showed that Reagan would receive 39 percent, Carter, 33, and Anderson 23. In the second, Anderson shaves two percentage points from President Carter and four from Governor Reagan.

On such a basis, the results would be Reagan, 35; Carter, 31; Anderson, 29.

and the better educated segment of the electorate. In a three-person election, 28 percent of those calling themselves Independents say they would support Reagan, 26 percent support Anderson and 23 percent support Carter, with the remainder not choosing.

With Anderson in the race, Carter does not hold a majority of Democratic support -- 48 percent prefer Carter, 19 percent Anderson and 17 percent Reagan. A bare majority of Republicans – 54 percent -- support Reagan, while 15 percent prefer Anderson and 14 percent prefer Carter.

Mr. Zukin noted that "While Anderson appears to draw support equally from both candidates at this stage, he may hurt Reagan more than Carter. The Republican party is smaller than the Democratic party so it is essential for a Republican candidate to draw a substantial bloc of Independents to be elected. A viable Anderson candidacy could pull many of the Independents Reagan needs to win."

Anderson also runs better among more educated New Jerseyans. Anderson and Reagan both receive 30 percent of the vote from those with more than a high school education, while Carter receives 22 percent. High school graduates were evenly split between Carter (31 percent) and Reagan (30 percent) with Anderson receiving only 19 percent. Thirty-five percent of those who did not graduate from high school prefer Carter while 28 percent prefer Reagan and 14 percent prefer Anderson.

What you get out of your Yellow Pages ad depends on what goes into it.

People who use the Bell System Yellow Pages usually use them because they don't know whom to call.

So if you want them to call you, give them reasons.

Instead of just your address and phone number, tell them who you are and what you have to offer them.

But don't stop there. Tell them where you're located, when you're open and why your business deserves their business.

If you can't remember all that, keep this ad around to remind you of what kinds of things to include.

Endorsements, Guarantees, etc.
You worked long and hard to earn that certification, endorsement or license. So why leave it out?

Credit Cards.
If you accept credit cards, give yourself credit for it.

Brand Names.
If your brand names are more famous than your name, name them. Along with a complete list of your products and services.

Business Hours.
A lot of the people who use the Yellow Pages don't call you; they come right to your place of business. So be sure to tell them when you're open.

Directions and/or Maps.
Be sure to include a map if necessary. Your Yellow Pages representative will help you with the artwork.

Slogans or Emblems.
If they're well-known, include them. If not, don't.

Your Yellow Pages Representative.
Be sure to include your Yellow Pages representative in the planning of your Yellow Pages ad, too. He or she will help you create your ad and recommend what directories and listings you should use. Work with your representative. And turn your Yellow Pages ad into a gold mine.

PEOPLE
In The News

Three Princeton residents have been selected as finalists in different categories of the Scholars in Art Program, an adjunct to the Presidential Scholars program announced previously. They are now in the running for the U.S. Presidential Medallion, which for the first time will recognize America's most promising young artists in dance theatre, music, visual arts and writing.

The three are Cynthia G. Khachadurian of 22 Philip Drive, named in the music category; Elizabeth A. Guerin of 145 Philip Drive, dance; and Ioana N. Belcea of 169 Harrison Street, visual arts. Miss Khachadurian was previously named as a finalist also in the Presidential Scholars Program.

Kenyon College senior David Faus of 30 Armour Road has been awarded the Henry G. Dalton Fellowship in American Studies.

The fellowship is awarded annually to a senior who is eligible to do graduate work in American Studies.

Lewis H. Sarett of Rolling Hill Road, senior vice president for science and technology, Merck & Co., has received the industrial Research Institute Medal.

Dr. Sarett -- I.R.I's 35th Medalist -- was cited "for his contributions to scientific knowledge during 38 years as a scientist with Merck & Co., Inc., for his many discoveries that contributed significantly to human well being, and for his executive direction of a highly productive research organization which has vastly benefited from his pioneering achievements on behalf of people everywhere."

in announcing the 141 Presidential Scholars for 1980, including three from New Jersey, President Carter named Claire F. Ullman and Elizabeth A. Guerin, both seniors at Princeton High School. Miss Ullman is the daughter of Richard Ullman of 12 Maple Street and Yoma Ullman of Prospect Avenue, and Miss Guerin is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A.L. Guerin of 145 Philip Drive.

Miss Ullman was chosen on the basis of academic achievement, leadership and community involvement, and Miss Guerin for demonstrated excellence in the areas of visual and performing arts, in her case, the dance. As Scholars, they will visit Washington from June 19 to July 2 as guests of the White House and the Department of Education and will receive Presidential Scholars medallions in a White House ceremony. They will attend seminars with authorities in many fields, meet with their elected officials and visit historic sites.

James Leech, son of Mr. and Mrs. John G. Leech of 305 Prospect Avenue, has been elected president of the student government at Ithaca College, Ithaca, N.Y., where he is a sophomore. He will serve through the next academic year.

A 1977 graduate of Princeton High School, he is a double major in psychology and politics and has been repeatedly named to the Dean's List for academic excellence. He was chosen as a teaching assistant for the psychology department and as the sole student member of the Arts and Sciences Faculty Curriculum Committee.

Joseph P. Moore of 246 Witherspoon Street has been appointed as Director of the Division of Community Resources at the New Jersey Department of Community Affairs.

Mr. Moore is a graduate of Central State University of Ohio and Newark State College. He has worked for the Trenton School District and United Progress, Inc., as the Assistant Director of the Trenton Action Bound Project. He was Assistant Dean of Students at Princeton University; at Mercer County Community College he served as Assistant Dean of Faculty and Director of the Kerney Center.

For the past five years, he has been Director of the New Jersey Education Reform Project. He was twice elected to the Borough Council; and presently, he is a member of the Princeton Regional School Board. He is a trustee of the Princeton Education Center at Blairstown and a past president of Princeton Youth Center board.

Selden D. Bacon, 1 Penn Lyle Road, Princeton Junction will address the first annual Eastern Regional Safety Congress and Exposition to be held in Washington this Thursday and Friday. An emeritus professor of sociology, he will speak on "Drinking and Driving: The Possibility of a Social Science Approach" and "Trends and Patterns in Alcohol Usage" during the National Safety Council sponsored event.

Cindy Brooks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbert Brooks of 188 John Street, will graduate from Wellesley College, Wellesley, Mass., on May 30. She majored in history and French.

Princeton Regional School HIGHLIGHTS

(The following information was researched and written by members of the Regional Schools PTO Council, and the opinions expressed are not those of TOWN TOPICS.)

FIELD DAY AT COMMUNITY PARK

Friday, May 30 marks COMMUNITY PARK's Annual Field Day, say Chairpeople Becky Mackey, Sam Ishibashi, Sally Rowland and Bobby Pervin. What is a field day? It's races – 25, 50 and 100 meters; it's apple dunks; it's booths such as "Far-out Fatima," the palmist and "Zanobia the Wise" with her crystal ball (actually CP teachers and staff). It's Amazing Boxes: a series of corrugated cardboard mazes built by students for others to enjoy. It's a barbeque picnic lunch prepared by CP's cafeteria staff followed by a school-wide swim at CP Pool next door. Red Cross lifeguards and a "Parents Brigade" make their contribution here.

Why have a field day? It's a chance for everyone associated with CP to be together, for all ages to share a non-competitive experience; it's a chance to practice values and skills learned in the classroom in a new setting. Gym teacher Becky Mackey's older students will show their folk dance steps during the Square Dance. Students 3rd grade and up will have the responsibility of running activities and all students may move freely from one activity to another. "And," says PTO Chairperson Sandy Godfrey, "We couldn't attempt this event without the enormous help of parents via the PTO. The day represents a chance for everyone to work together towards a goal – a goal to be shared and enjoyed by all."

STREAM WALK AT RIVERSIDE

Equipped with boots, nets and specimen containers, students of Mrs. Melva Moore's 2nd grade at RIVERSIDE explored the Herrontown Wood's stream. The students, guided by experienced naturalist William Alston, discovered a spring stream coming alive with crayfish, spotted salamanders, larva of a crane fly, water pennies and other developing animals and plants. Enthusiastic discussions of nature's food web followed, and resulted in a class vote to return all the specimens to the stream so the food web would not be disturbed.

The trip was funded by the Lyn Gelperin Nature Fund. Under the auspices of the Fund, students have taken other field trips and worked on beginning a Nature Center at RS with the help of Mrs. Lisa Jennings. So far they have developed a bog terrarium, an ant colony and a butterfly farm.

AND A BIRD WALK AT LITTLEBROOK

Has bird-watching always sounded a bit esoteric to you? Well, you never had Barbara Schwarzchild and Dorothy Minis of the Princeton Environmental Commission introduce you to it when you were in elementary school. This spring LITTLEBROOK's 2nd and 3rd graders in Mrs. Geary's and Mrs. Sullivan's classes took their most exciting trip of the year to the Charles H. Rogers Wildlife Refuge. "It was one of the best organized trips too," commented both teachers about the marvelous job the two environmental commissioners did in preparing and stimulating the children for the outdoor opportunity. A few weeks ago Mrs. Schwarzchild brought her collection of close-up slides of lots of familiar and colorful birds, showing exactly what birds do, picking out and cracking seeds, preening and scolding. Mrs. Minis accompanied with her recordings of their different songs. Then a week before the trip, they brought in plant samples of cattails and poison ivy, each carefully packaged and labeled so the children would get to know them ahead of time. Properly dressed and with binoculars if they had a pair, the students all came prepared – twice, since a rainy day postponed the first trip's plans. Parents came along to assist the children in small groups along the three different trails up to the bird observation tower. Observation report forms asked the fun questions first. What is the bird doing? Trying to name it was secondary, but with Mrs. Minis and Mrs. Schwarzchild along as instant reference, only Adam every had more fun.

"It all started last fall at the most interesting all day workshop I've ever been to in the Princeton schools," related Mrs. Geary with her usual enthusiasm. "All the 3rd grade teachers got together to try out lots of things Marty Schneiderman had prepared from the new science curriculum. We laughed in the teacher's room beforehand when we heard about the bird walk. But Mrs. Schwarzchild and Mrs. Minis made the teachers enjoy it so much in October, and the children think it's just wonderful now."

The Charles H. Rogers Wildlife Refuge is located off Alexander Road at the Princeton Water Company. It is 39 acres of mostly swamp which provides nesting and food for 190 species of birds.

NEWS FROM THE PTO COUNCIL

The PTO Council expresses thanks to all the people who worked on and all the people who came to the Council's Lasagna Dinner in April. The wide support for this fundraiser means that $1092 is available to be used for cultural enrichment in the schools. Thank you!

Council officers have been selected to serve for the 1980-81 school year. They are: Bobette Lister, President; Judy Adler, Vice-president and Kay Heidere, Secretary-Treasurer

Wearing Certain Colors Can Make You More Likable

Your clothes can make you more likable, says nationally recognized clothing expert John Molloy.

"Our research shows that if women wear certain colors they will appear to be in a bright, cheery mood and are much more likely to be liked," said Molloy.

"The colors are simple: a blue and pale yellow combination, or a beige, tan or camel and blue combination." Other mixtures that work are a blue suit with a pale yellow blouse or a beige suit with a medium or light blue blouse, said Molloy, author of the best-sellers "Dress for Success" and "The Women's Dress for Success Book."

Pastels and dresses or skirts — not pants — score high with men, he said.

TO RISE ON 54-ACRE SITE: Sketch of headquarters building for Scottish and York International Insurance Group to be built on Alexander Road at U.S. 1 in West Windsor.

BUSINESS

In and Around Princeton

NEW COMPLEX PLANNED

Ground-Breaking Thursday. Scottish & York International Insurance Group, a specialty insurance group for property and casualty business, will break ground Thursday for its new 120,000-sq. ft. national headquarters in the Carnegie Center, U.S. Route 1 and Alexander Road, West Windsor Township.

Scottish & York International Insurance Group, with offices nationwide, currently occupies four office locations in the Princeton area. The corporation expects to occupy its new national headquarters in the summer of 1981.

Mark Landis, president of the Group, noted that "Our continuing growth necessitates expansion to larger and more efficient headquarters for improved services to our producer network. We are pleased to make this commitment to the community of West Windsor, Mercer County and the State of New Jersey."

The Carnegie Center is a 54-acre complex which will contain a luxury hotel and 390,000 sq. ft. of office space. The Scottish & York International Insurance Group will be the first occupant of the center.

DEVELOPMENT PLANNED

In Lawrence Township. A 16-acre tract on Quakerbridge Mall Perimeter Road in Lawrence Township has been purchased for mixed use development. Taking title to the entire tract, in the vicinity of Quaker Bridge Road and Clarksville Road, was Best Lawrence Associates, an affiliate of The Harlan Company, a New York City development company.

Simultaneous with the purchase of the 16-acre site was the sale of seven acres to Best Products Company, which will construct a 67,000-square foot catalogue warehouse showroom to open in the fall of this year. The Best building represents the first phase of development which is also expected to include a banking institution and an office complex. The developer has plans to extend Clarksville Road south of Quakerbridge Road, where it presently ends, to serve the entire tract.

SEMINAR PLANNED

On Job Search Preparation. Banner Business Associates is expanding its activities to include preparation for the job search, including preparation for those who are re-entering the job market, making a mid-career switch or contemplating a change of employer.

Besides offering a resume service, Banner will conduct small group meetings for the purpose of exchanging ideas and suggestions on the job search, role-playing to improve interview techniques and seminars on various subjects.

The first seminar will be held on June 5 from 8:30 to 4 and the topic will be "Re-entering the Job Market -- Now, September or Whenever." The all-day session will cover inventory of one's background, evaluating oneself and one's skills, developing a job campaign, preparing for the interview and interview techniques.

The program will be held at the Treadway Inn on Route 1. The $30 registration fee includes lunch and workshop materials. For further information, call Banner

Developer Planning Six Condominiums For Charlton-William-Nassau St. Area

A trio of three-story buildings containing six condominium apartments has gone before the Planning Board for "concept review."

The project, tentatively christened "Firestone Place" by developer James Firestone, is in the interior of the Charlton-William-Nassau Street block. It would be entered from William, with egress onto Charlton.

Mr. Firestone owns part of the land and has an option to buy the rest from Princeton University. A building, once an old Buick agency, described by Mr. Firestone as an "eyesore," would be razed.

Architect Len Groom and Mr. Firestone plan brick buildings designed in a traditional style of architecture similar to that of the old houses in the block. The units have been turned on the lot, to allow for privacy, and bulk variances will be required. This part of the block is in a Residential zone, adjoining the Office-Residential zone that fronts on Nassau.

Units would probably have three bedrooms. Parking would be provided inside the buildings.

Although he declined to give a price range for the condominiums, he said he believed his project would bring "a $30,000 increase in value" to other homes in the neighborhood. He said he regarded "Firestone Place" as an example of what could be done with interiors of blocks.

HOW DID YOUR DOLLAR DO TODAY?

You constantly hear news of how the dollar is doing. What it will buy, how much it was inflated and how it fared on the World Market. The fact is, though most of us think of the dollar as something to spend or to invest, it is as much a commodity as pork bellies, potatoes or precious metals.

Each day the dollar is bought and sold in the trading centers of the world. Some days it does fairly well, other days it is down. Most recently it has been on a steady downward trend following the rapid decline in interest rates. The price of the dollar on the world market is a direct reflection of world confidence in the U.S. economy. It seems like a strange notion, but other nations buy and sell our dollars almost as if they were buying "stock" in America. Unfortunately, our "stock" has been selling at lower and lower rates as our domestic economy deteriorates. That is why we suggest you put your assets into something more substantial than a deteriorating dollar.

To safeguard your earnings we suggest an integrated program of investment involving gold, silver, coins and stable foreign currency. These investments appreciate in the face of inflation and historically offer far greater profit potential than traditional savings plans. It makes good sense to put your earnings into something that will gain for you during these troubled times – not to let your earnings be eroded by constantly spiraling inflation and diminishing purchasing power of the dollar. After all, you have no control over the destruction of the dollar, but you can control your own assets. Make the most of what you have. Call the Collector's Exchange today to arrange for an appointment with one of our investment counsellors.

Dean Ernest Gordon Delivers Final Sermon In Chapel, Ending 25 Years at University

Close to 1,500 well-wishers, including Princeton University President-Emeritus Harold Dodds, flocked to the University Chapel Sunday to pay tribute to the Rev. Ernest Gordon, who was giving his last sermon as Dean of the Chapel. Selected by President Dodds in 1955, Dean Gordon will go on sabbatical for the coming academic year and officially retire in June, 1981.

A reception was held in Prospect Gardens following the Chapel service in honor of Ernest and Helen, Dean of the Chapel and First Lady of the Congregation, and the 25 years "they have given of themselves in Christian service and friendship to all of Princeton."

John A. McCullough '67, chairman of the Chapel Advisory Council, told of the establishment of the Ernest and Helen Gordon Fund to perpetuate their ministry. The fund has been endowed by donations of the Advisory Council, the Chapel Council, students, alumni, members of the faculty and administration and numerous Friends of the Chapel. To date, there have been more than 400 subscribers who have raised in excess of $30,000.

The income from the fund will support the religious witness, good works, student activities and benevolent concerns of the Princeton University Chapel and its Dean, Mr. McCullough said. The Rev. Dr. Donald Macleod of Princeton Theological Seminary, a fellow Scot and a member of the Chapel Advisory Council, presented Dean Gordon with a leather-bound volume of reminiscences of his years here, including photographs, letters of tribute from three living Princeton University presidents, and five representative sermons.

Nancy B. Miller, chairman of the Chapel Council, presented Helen Gordon with a large silver box that was not immediately opened, and Dr. Frederic Fox concluded the ceremonies by leading those assembled in the singing of "Old Nassau," which, he pointed out, was originally set to the tune of "Auld Lang Syne."

Earlier in the service Dean Gordon had taken a text from Hebrews 13, "For here we have no permanent home but we are seekers after the city which is to come," on which to base a sermon entitled "Pilgrims' Way." "Conversion is not magic," he told his audience. "It is a beginning. With the end in sight, the finding is in the seeking."

Touching on his retirement, Dean Gordon said, "My sojourn in this particular campground has been lengthy in years but brief in terms of delightful experiences. We have been blessed with many good companions – comrades of the way – and we have this assurance that the closer we are to Jesus as Lord, the closer we are to the Eternal City and to all of the Pilgrim People."

A Standing Tribute. There was a poignant moment as Isobel Woods, a graduate student on a Rotary International Scholarship from Scotland, sang "Will Ye No Come Back Again" and again as David Hoffelt, assistant dean of the Chapel, remarking that "From this Chapel, year by year, by word and action, Ernest and Helen have shown us how to live and how to love," asked the congregation to rise in tribute to the departing dean.

RELIGION In Princeton

During Dean Gordon's 25 year tenure, compulsory chapel attendance was dropped, girls were admitted and the civil rights movement and student protests against the Vietnam War were keenly felt on the campus. A highlight of his career was his invitation of Dr. Martin Luther King to speak at the Chapel, for which he was initially strongly criticized and which was the beginning of a cherished friendship.

Dean Gordon initiated study groups, revitalized the Chapel Fellowship and the Chapel Deacons, and breathed new life into the Student Volunteer Council and mission activities such as Crossroads Africa.

Groups as diverse as the Gospel Ensemble, the International Center and Alcoholics Anonymous found in him a champion for their activities and causes. The door of his office was always open, except when he was counseling, and this policy in a figurative as well as literal way enabled seekers, the curious and the troubled, to come and to feel no pressure.

Reflecting last week on his 25 years here, Dean Gordon said, "I've always felt that the Christian faith is the best interpreter of human existence and that you have to be honest about it. I've tried to be a faithful interpreter and teacher and to show the significance of the Christian faith in everyday relationships – talking about it as a way of life, not just a code."

Dean Gordon has agreed to be president of Christian Rescue Effort for the Emancipation of Dissidents (CREED), a voluntary fellowship who covenant to pray and work for the freedom to pray, praise and prophesy on the part of Christian brothers and sisters throughout the world, particularly those in Soviet Russia and satellite countries." He says it is an organization that has no money and he expects to be doing intensive fund-raising on its behalf.

Jewish Center to Consider Major Changes at Annual Meeting

The Jewish Center, which since its founding in 1951 in a small building on Olden Avenue, has remained unaffiliated with any of the three major Jewish denominations, is now considering affiliation, a change in name, and the hiring of a full-time cantor by the fall of 1981.

The annual meeting of the congregation will be held this Thursday at 7:30 to discuss these changes and to elect officers for the coming year. The proposed budget for 1980-81 will also be presented.

An 11-member committee on affiliation and name change appointed by the board of directors last December has recommended affiliation with the United Synagogue of America, the Conservative Movement. The committee suggested that the issue be discussed at a congregational meeting and in a series of small group discussions over the summer before being presented for formal approval by the congregation in the fall.

B'nai Zion, the name of the original store-front synagogue on Spring Street that served the emerging Jewish community in the 1940s, was also proposed. However the committee felt that the name change was of secondary importance and should not be considered until after the affiliation issue was resolved.

Heritage Noted. In its report, the committee notes that the motives of the Jewish Center in having chosen a course of non-affiliation were "positive ones and reflected a real need in the early 50s for a small town Jewish Center to be a 'haven for all who wish to associate themselves with the heritage of the Jews.' " This goal has now been fulfilled, the report says, as the Jewish community has grown and other congregations in the surrounding communities have been established.

"We believe that we can retain our heritage of accomodating diversity while moving to establish a new positive goal: that of fulfilling our responsibility to the national community by belonging to and actively supporting the organizations which represent the interests of Jews in this country, and which provide the services required to keep the Jewish community vital," the report states. It cites benefits to religious services, the Center's Hebrew School, youth and adult education programs and the overall well-being of the congregation.

There have been other efforts in 1961 and 1974 to become affiliated which were narrowly defeated, and the report notes that there is increasing evidence to suggest that families join the Center because it is essentially a Conservative congregation in all but name. Rabbi Melvin J. Glatt, spiritual leader of the Jewish Center, is represented as being in favor of affiliation with the Conservative movement but also personally content with a decision to remain unaffiliated.

A separate committee has reported on the desirability of hiring a full time cantor who would "provide enhancements to the religious services" and assist in other areas of the Jewish Center such as Bar-Bat Mitzvah preparation, religious school and adult education.

TO MARK 25 YEARS

At Christ Congregation. Christ Congregation, Walnut Lane and Houghton Street will celebrate 25 years together this Sunday. Worship led by the Rev. Margot T. Pickett and the Rev. Mark Pickett will begin at 10 and the anniversary program will continue with a luncheon, mortgage-burning, songfest, reminiscing and rejoicing.

The life of Christ Congregation began in May, 1955, with the founding of Calvary Baptist Church. Meeting in the chapel of Westminster Choir College, 40 charter members and their pastor, James Middleton, gathered for church school and worship. Three years later, work was completed on the present building and the church moved across Walnut Lane from its temporary quarters to a permanent home.

Then, 11 years later, in 1966, the small American Baptist Church joined fellowship with the United Church of Christ and this fellowship was renamed Christ Congregation.

Dr. Donald Macleod

BULLETIN NOTES

The preacher at the 11 a.m. service in the Chapel of Princeton University on Sunday will be the Rev. Dr. Donald Macleod, professor of preaching and worship, Princeton Theological Seminary.

Dr. Macleod, who joined the Seminary faculty in 1947 is the founder and first president of the American Academy of Homiletics, the author of six books, including a volume of sermons "Higher Reaches," and a preacher in many of the leading pulpits in the United States, Canada, and Great Britain. He is editor of the Princeton Seminary Bulletin and is serving his fourth term on the Advisory Council of the Chapel of Princeton University.

His sermon topic will be "Don't Just Listen: HEAR!"

The Young Peoples Department of Mt. Pisgah A.M.E. Church, Witherspoon and Maclean Streets, will hold a Band and Rummage Sale on Saturday at 10.

At its annual meeting, the Unitarian Church congregation voted to conduct a capital fund drive in October to raise $100,000 for major capital repairs and improvements to the church physical plant, plus an additional $40,000 for a ministerial housing equity fund. The ministerial housing fund plan is to provide home-owner equity for the current and future ministers.

A CRISP COLONIAL in a unique Township location – walking distance to schools and recreation yet the lot is park-like with open lawns, an entry way across a bridge over a rippling brook, and pretty trees and plantings. Tastefully decorated interior includes a living room with bar alcove, separate dining room with cathedral ceiling, study with quarry tile floor, adjoining lavatory, ample sized kitchen with adjoining laundry. Upstairs, four bedrooms, two baths. Pearson built with plaster walls, stucco and aluminum siding exterior. Flagstone patios, two-car garage. $168,500

FOR TODAY'S LIFE STYLE See this centrally located Township split-level. Walk or bike to shopping, Community Park School, the Middle School, the High School, and the comunity recreation center. Well proportioned living room with lots of bookshelves, separate dining room, kitchen with breakfast space, family room with built-ins, separate laundry and lavatory. On second floor, three bedrooms, full tile bath. Attic fan, one-car garage. Important extras such as central air and central vaccum system. Corner lot with mature shrubs and tall pine trees. Owner will consider second financing. $119,000

GREAT ROAD AREA This contemporary is so right for spring and the summer days ahead. Lovely acre plus lot with statuesque evergreens and lovely dogwoods, marvelous private recreation area including a screen porch, fenced deck and good sized swimming pool. The interesting interior includes a large living room, two stories high with tall windows, fireplace and balcony, dining room, kitchen with breakfast area, study, family room, lavatory. Upstairs master bedroom with balcony and bath, three other bedrooms and bath. Carport. Owner will finance to a qualified buyer: 29 percent down with balance at 12 percent first mortgage. $169,000

HOUSE FOR EVERY SEASON Surround yourself with nature's beauty in this four to five bedroom home set atop a small knoll amidst eleven acres of woods and beautifully landscaped grounds, which offer 30 specimen holly trees, mature azaleas, dogwoods and magnificent flowering cherries. Watch the geese take off and land on the spring-fed pond and view the Sourland Moutains over the tree tops from almost every room in the house. This Princeton Township hillside Colonial has everything the modern family would require including a large eat-in kitchen, huge finished game room with fireplace and an attached greenhouse. Best of all it is only two miles from the center of town, near Princeton's excellent private schools. Call to see this unique mini-estate and maybe you will be lucky enough to be its second owner. $400,000

A SPECTACULAR CONTEMPORARY in Hopewell Township's Elm Ridge Park, only a few minutes from Princeton with a Princeton phone and mailing address. An entry hall leads to ample living room with fireplace, dining "L", and view through to the huge two-level glass-enclosed Florida room. Convenient kitchen, study or bedroom, bath, master bedroom with its own fireplace and outdoor balcony, plus bath. At the lower level, large family room with fireplace, auxiliary kitchen two bedrooms and bath. Large carport with storage rooms, patios, and unique enclosed arboretum. Central air, burglar and fire alarm. $195,000

SPRINGHILL ROAD in the lovely, rolling foothills of the Sourland Mountains just a few minutes north of Princeton a restored Colonial farmhouse on seven plus acres. The architectural integrity of this 200 year old dwelling has been consciously maintained by the present owner. The separate living and dining rooms both have fireplace and original wide plank floors. The kitchen has been modernized and has a breakfast area, adjoining pantry and powder room. Upstairs there are three bedrooms, a master bedroom with fireplace and full bath. Out buildings include a garage with adjoining workshop and a small barn for playhouse or office. Mature apple orchard and many other fine trees and shrubs $165,000

First Community Services Directory Since '68 Reflects Major Changes in Town's Way of Life

Remember 1968?

Sure you do. That was the year Princeton flew flags at half-staff and filled the Princeton University Chapel mourning the April 4 death of Martin Luther King Jr.

It was the year of Nassau Street marches by the SDS – who? "Students for a Democratic Society" protesting the war in Vietnam. The year TOWN TOPICS' Memorial Day issue honored Princeton men who had died – so far – in Vietnam.

The town was talking about the possibility of a human rights commission, and clergy declard that "nothing less than a total community effort will alter the conditions of which racial combatants (in the high school) and narcotics abuses are but a product . . ."

All this is to introduce the new Council of Community Services "Directory of Community Services," the first since 1968. And a lot has happened to society and community in these 12 years.

Pick up a copy of the bright orange spiral Directory ($6.35 by mail from the Council, Box 201, Princeton; $5 if you stop at the Valley Road offices). Examine it at the library, if you want to, but since it could be a handy home reference, you may want to buy one.

New Words in Use. In 1968, who was talking about rape, abortion, battered women? Who, indeed, would even think of using the word "black"? "Negro" was the accepted term.

"Hot line" was something you called your electrician about. "Mastectomy" was a word you never saw in print – if you knew what it meant! – alcoholism was anonymous indeed and nobody would have known what you were talking about if you referred to an "autistic" child.

In the big new directory are all these and more. And if you are fortunate enough not to have a crisis in your individual or family life, you may have a consumer complaint some day, and the number to call is right here.

The prim little brown book of 1968 listed about 118 agencies in the parts of Mercer, Somerset and Middlesex counties covered by the Council of Community Services. The new directory has over 200. The agencies are those used by people living in areas as far apart as South Brunswick and Lawrence, Montgomery and East Windsor, Griggstown and Plainsboro and, of course, the two Princetons.

In addition, the Council itself has an up-to-date file listing self-help groups and what social workers call "non-traditional" programs. This translates into, "If it isn't in the directory, call us at 924-5865."

One of the most evident differences between 1980 and 1968 is self-help and the whole idea of the hot line. On page one of the directory you'll find "First Call for Help," with the 924-5865 number. This is a special slogan referring to organizations like the Council which provide a free, confidential referral and information service for you when you're in trouble.

Several "Hot Lines." The "hot line" count in this directory is astonishing. It includes state and county agencies as well as private lines. There are hot lines for child abuse and housing discrimination, runaway kids and environmental action, senior citizen programs and suicide prevention, rental assistance and pharmaceutical aid.

Take that "senior citizen" hot line, for example. (In 1968, you weren't a "senior citizen," you were "aged.")

The directory has a list of 36 agencies dealing with older citizens. The 1968 directory had seven. These include not only standard listings like the Social Security Administration and the Catholic Welfare Bureau, but Princeton's Crosstown 62 taxi service, the Friendly Visitor program whose volunteers sit down for a chat with your house-bound elderly parent, and Meals on Wheels.

This reflects, of course, not just a deepening of sensitivity and care, but the plain fact of an aging population.

On the other side of the scale, there are 27 youth agencies listed, compared to 11 in 1968. "Interim Homes for Youth" is a newcomer, providing temporary homes for kids who need a place to live while things at home cool off.

There were day care centers in 1968, where working mothers could leave their children, but women themselves had yet to step forward as individuals. In today's directory is the Professional Roster, an employement clearing house for women who are going back into the job market after an absence of years.

Aid for Battered Women. "Women Helping Women" is another program. It is one of four listings for the battered woman, a term unknown in 1968 for a problem rarely discussed, even today.

The rape hotline, set up by Mercer County, and the Women's Crisis Center for rape victims bring still another human problem out of darkness. Abortion -- "problem pregnancy" -- has a listing in this new directory.

People with physical afflictions -- or with afflicted children – have been forming organizations for many years to help with heart, kidney or vision problems. In today's Community Services directory, you'll find where to obtain genetic counselling, where to learn CPR (cardiopulmonary resuscitation training), where to find help if someone in your family has terminal illness, where to turn if your child has myasthenia gravis, cleft palate or spina bifida, how to join The Stroke Club.

Sometimes a new agency is formed to meet a need, often an agency will simply grow itself. At the YWCA in Princeton, for example, the directory will tell you about VIM – Vigor in Maturity, a "shape up!" fitness class for what the "Y" calls "mature" adults.

"Encore" is the Y's rehabilitation program for women who have had a breast removed. This post-mastectomy group provides light exercise, group discussions and rehabilitation. "On Your Own," at the Y, recognizes the changing pattern of family life, and offers moral support and legal information for women who are separated or divorced. "Widowed Friends" at the "Y" touches another subject, once almost taboo: the loneliness of the bereaved woman.

These last two programs reflect an increasing interest in self-help, the Council of Community Services points out. And there are Overeaters Anonymous, with its self-descriptive name; Recovery, Inc., which provides quiet support for mental patients and the progenitor of them all, Alcoholics Anonymous.

Incidentally, there is now special help in the form of "Aid to low-income alcohol abusers."

An important part of social service in 1968 was help for the armed forces; in fact, in the listing of 12 years ago, the first item on the Red Cross list was "service to military families

News Of The THEATRES

FOUNDATION TO GAIN

From Benchley Film. The new Peter Benchley thriller, "The Island," will be shown at a benefit world premiere on Thursday, June 12, the night before the film opens nationwide.

The premiere, which will be held at the Prince Theatre on Route 1, will benefit the National Retinitis Pigmentosa Foundation, an organization dedicated to research into retinal degenerative eye diseases which cause visual loss — often total blindness.

Adapted by Peter Benchley from his best-selling novel, "The Island" follows a magazine writer, Michael Caine, as he searches for the reasons behind the mysterious disappearance of more than 600 boats and thousands of people in the Caribbean. What is behind these mysterious disappearances? Were they hijacked by drug runners, victims of tropical storms, swallowed up in the Bermuda Triangle, or was it something else far more ominous? It's the "something else" resolution which Peter Benchley explored in his novel, and the answer is guaranteed to raise gooseflesh in young and old alike.

"The Island" was directed by Michael Ritchie ("Semi-Tough," "The Bad News Bears") and produced by Richard D. Zanuck and David Brown whose credits include "Jaws" and "The Sting."

Following the movie, guests are invited to attend a reception at the Princeton Country Club, featuring Arnold Roth's band, "Salmagundi and the Maroons." Peter Benchley plans to spin some off-camera yarns about the movie and will also answer questions.

A highlight of the reception will be the raffling of a treasure trunk containing exotic gifts from area merchants. Raffle tickets can be purchased at the theatre or from members of the benefit committee. Also up for bid is one week at a three-bedroom ocean house on Great Abaco Island, one of the locations for the filming of the movie.

Co-chairmen of the benefit committee are Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Gund and Mr. and Mrs. Peter Knipe. Their committee consists of Mr. and Mrs. Hoyt Ammidon, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas S. Barrows, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Benchley, Mr. and Mrs. Brock Brower, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick F. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Amos Cecchi, Dr. and Mrs. Morton Collins, Mr. and Mrs. Stephen W. Fillo, Mr. and Mrs. Richard D. Hargrave, Dr. and Mrs. Dudley F. Hawkes, Dr. and Mrs. Carl Hoyler, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas C. Jamieson, Ms. Beverly Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Roger Kirkpatrick, Mr. and Mrs. Leighton H. Laughlin, Mr. and Mrs. James Loesch, Dr. and Mrs. George B. Mackaness, Mr. and Mrs. R. Gerald Mould, Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. O'Leary, Mr. and Mrs. C.G. Travers, Mr. and Mrs. James Trowbridge, and Mr. and Mrs. H. Peter Wall.

Tickets to the movie and reception are $25 per person, or for $50 you can become a "Buccaneer" and receive a signed T-shirt of "The Island." For ticket information, call the New Jersey Chapter of the Retinitis Pigmentosa Foundation at 924-8034, or mail a check made out to the "RP Foundation" for the appropriate amount to P.O. Box 449, including your name and address. Tickets to the movie and reception will be mailed out the week of June 2.

ONE-FEATURE BILL

"American Gigolo." Richard Gere as the "American Gigolo" will occupy the Playhouse screen full time for the week beginning this Friday and continuing through Thursday, June 5. There will not be a second feature.

Gere stars as the gigolo in the black Mercedes, speeding through his California world of beach houses, exclusive shops and resorts, providing "Love" on a paying basis and serving as not only lover, but companion, guide, translator and chauffeur – in that Mercedes.

Lauren Hutton plays the wife of the California

Program 1

Wed, Thurs & Sun: MR. GOODBAR 7:30/LAST TANGO 9:45
Fri & Sat: MR. GOODBAR 8:00/LAST TANGO 10:15

LOOKING FOR MR. GOODBAR is director Richard Brooks' screen adaptation of Judith Rossner's best-selling novel. It vividly captures the dark and disturbing underside of life in New York's singles bars as it follows the ill-fated and confused Theresa Dunn in her search for sex without love in a world of dope and discos. Diane Keaton's intense and riveting performance is a revelation, and her partners include Richard Gere. Mr. Goodbar pulls no punches, and is definitely not for the squeamish. With Tuesday Weld & William Atheron. USA, 1977, 136 minutes, R

LAST TANGO IN PARIS remains the most powerfully erotic and liberating movie of our time. Bernardo Bertolucci's employment of sex combined with passion and emotional violence was a real cinematic breakthrough of the 70's. Marlon Brando plays a middle-aged American widower living in Paris who, in despair, sets up an apartment with an anonymous young girl (Maria Schneider) for afternoons of pure sexual encounter. These sessions form the core of the film, during which she falls in love with him and he instructs her in sexual experiences that are still new in conventional films – scenes that are frenzied, furious celebrations of the ecstasies and limitations of sexual passion. Both Bertolucci and Brando dare to pull out all the stops, and the result still shocks, antagonizes and embarrasses. Italy/France, 1972, 125 minutes, X

Wed, Thurs & Sun: FELLINI'S ROMA 7:30/DEATH IN VENICE 9:30
Fri & Sat: FELLINI'S ROMA 8:00/DEATH IN VENICE 10:00

FELLINI'S ROMA is much more than the story of a city. It is also the story of memory, reality, fantasy, and of a man and artist – Fellini himself. These themes are woven around a description of his personal encounters with Rome, first as a boy in Rimini for whom the city exists only in imagination; then as a young man first coming to the capital; and finally, as an observer of the contemporary city. All are physical contacts which, in the film, become exultant flights into the past and, by implication, the future as well. This is the perfect Fellini film for those who've never seen one. Italy, 1972, 117 minutes

DEATH IN VENICE is the late Luchino Visconti's adaptation of Thomas Mann's novella about a German writer, a beautiful 14-year old boy, and a sinister pestilence. Dirk Bogarde is Aschenbach, whose search for purity and ideal beauty leads him to cholera-infested Venice where he becomes infatuated with the young Tadzio – an infatuation which ultimately costs him his life in an abject yet triumphant capitulation to his senses. Winner of the Cannes Grand Prize, this is also the film that made the Adagietto from Mahler's 5th Symphony a box office hit. Italy, 1971, 130 minutes, PG

Wed, Thurs & Sun: ONE SHOWING ONLY at 7:30
Fri & Sat: ONE SHOWING ONLY at 8:00

NASHVILLE is Robert Altman's epic vision of America in the mid-1970s, an immense collaboration between Altman, screenwriter Joan Tewkesbury, music director Richard Baskin, and the extraordinary cast of 24 major characters, all linked to each other and to the film's tragic climax. It is at once a satire, a melodrama, a country-and-western musical, a documentary essay on Nashville and American life, and a celebration of its own performers. The cast is a mixture of knowns (Karen Black, Lili Tomlin), lesser knowns (Barbara Harris, Henry Gibson) unknowns (Ronee Blakley, Gwen Welles) and Altman regulars (Keith Carradine, Shelley Duvall). All 24 are involved in either the C&W business or politics, and Altman spins us from one to another in his linear-elliptical style. The soundtrack of 26 songs is so integral to the film that Nashville gives the impression of being one long musical performance, as well as both a celebration of its director's genius and a milestone in American filmmaking. USA, 1975, 162 minutes, R

BEAUTY KNOWS NO PAIN. Each year, for two weeks, new coeds who aspire to join the Kilgore College Rangerettes – nationally-known majorettes you've seen on football half-time shows – submit to an incredible, torturing ordeal of testing and training. The value the Rangerette ideal holds for them is demonstrated in scenes of hysteria when the results are posted, and winners and losers embrace with tears and sobs to console or congratulate each other. Whether the film appears cynical or sentimental about these values is in the eyes of the beholder. Directed by Elliott Erwit. 25 mins.

Program 4

Wed, Thurs & Sun: LOVE & ANARCHY 7:30/LOVE & DEATH 9:20
Fri & Sat: LOVE & ANARCHY 8:00/LOVE & DEATH 9:50

LOVE & ANARCHY served notice that director Lina Wertmuller (Seven Beauties, Swept Away) was a major talent. A Neopolitan gothic romance, it stars Giancarlo Giannini as Tunin, a shy, awkward anti-fascist in the early 1930's who comes to Rome intent upon assassinating Mussolini. His mentor and aide in this task is Salome (Mariangelo Melato), the leading lady of an elegant bordello, herself a dedicated revolutionary. But Tunin falls in love with a young prostitute, and the conflict between "love and anarchy" sparks an explosion of passions which ends in a final crescendo of anguish and fury. Italy, 1974, 108 minutes, R

LOVE AND DEATH is "the film that God tried to stop," Woody Allen's sweeping, side-splitting spectacle which preceded Annie Hall and Manhattan. Woody plays Boris Grushenko, a reluctant draftee in the Russian army at the time of the Napoleonic Wars, in love with his cousin Sonja (Diane Keaton) who is not, alas, in love with him. Boris emerges from the wars a hero, and the two wind up in a insane plot to assassinate Napoleon – which fizzles, of course. Filled with classic Allen moments, the film sparkles with his nervous and desperate inspiration. USA, 1975, 89 minutes, G

16	17	18	19	20

Program 5

Wed, Thurs & Sun: 7 SOLUTION 7:30/CHINATOWN 9:25
Fri & Sat: 7 SOLUTION 8:00/CHINATOWN 9:55

THE SEVEN-PER-CENT SOLUTION is Nicholas Meyer's adaptation of his own best-selling novel brought stylishly to the screen by director Herbert Ross. Dr. Watson (Robert Duvall) of 221B Baker Street discovers that his friend Holmes (Nicol Williamson) is a cocaine addict and, in a desperate effort to save his life, spirits him to Vienna and into the care of a new doctor, Sigmund Freud (Alan Arkin). The two subsequently join forces to solve a diabolical plot involving a red-headed woman (Vanessa Redgrave), a dishonorable German baron, an amorous Turkish pasha, and a great train chase through Austria. The film is at once contemporary in its sensibility and faithful to the Victorian mood and spirit of the Conan Doyle originals. All the performers have a field day, and the result is superb entertainment. With Sir Laurence Olivier as Prof. Moriarty. USA, 1976, 113 minutes, PG

CHINATOWN is Roman Polanski's dazzling homage to film noir and the Hammett-Chandler private eye genre, a disillusioned vision of seedy, sunkissed pre-war 1937 southern California. What begins as a seemingly routine case for divorce lawyer J.J. Gittes (Jack Nicholson) mushrooms into a regional and personal scandal involving murderous machinations and power politics. Kinks complicate mystery, lies compound complexity, and passion clouds detection, with Gittes pitted against the robber barons of the future. Written by Robert Towne, Chinatown won 10 Oscar nominations, and deserved them all. With John Huston and Faye Dunaway as the sultry Evelyn Mulwray. USA, 1974, 131 minutes, R

23	24	25	26	27

Program 6

Wed, Thurs & Sun: THE KID 7:30/SMALL CHANGE 9:00
Fri & Sat: THE KID 8:00/SMALL CHANGE 9:30

THE KID was Chaplin's first full-length feature. There is undoubtedly more of his own experience in it than in his previous screenplays, and it ranks with the much later Limelight and A King in New York as the most personal of his films. Its combination of the funny and the sad, only fleetingly in evidence in his previous work, was to become his hallmark in later years. And the performance Chaplin elicited from six-year old Jackie Coogan became the standard against which other child actors were measured – up to and including Justin Henry. With Edna Purviance. USA, 1921, 90 minutes. PLUS: Chaplin's THE IDLE CLASS

SMALL CHANGE is Francois Truffaut's marvelously funny and wise re-creation of childhood, never solemn and never sentimental. There is little plot per se, simply a series of vignettes and incidents involving a group of French children (aged two weeks to about 14) in the town of Thiers. Truffaut's camera ambles through their lives, observing them at home and in school, sneaking into the movies, making do on a Saturday, experiencing the first stirrings of adolescence. Working from the heart, he retains the grace and vulnerability of childhood in a film for all of us who have been – or who still are – children. France, 1976, 104 minutes

Wed, Thurs & Sun: TURNING POINT 7:30/JULIA 9:30
Fri & Sat: TURNING POINT 8:00/JULIA 10:00

THE TURNING POINT is a combination of glorified soap-opera, stormily human melodrama, and ballet slice-of-life, an old-fashioned backstage movie-musical transformed to the world of dance by a director (Herbert Ross) and a writer (Arthur Laurents) who not only know it, but love it, sentimental cliches and all. Shirley MacLaine is Deedee, who chose to leave her dancing career to marry and raise a family. Anne Bancroft is Emma, who stayed on to become the prima ballerina Deedee thinks she could have been. The intensity of their lifelong friendship and rivalry is carefully detailed as the film follows the rise to stardom of Deedee's daughter (Leslie Browne) who chooses the career her mother abandoned. The Turning Point is not really about dance at all, but about people, and emerges as a synthesis of old Hollywood melodrama with a sophisticated 70's awareness. With Mikhail Baryshnikov. USA, 1977, 118 minutes, PG

JULIA trades in serious ideas about friendship, political commitment, and growing up. Based on an episode in playwright Lillian Hellman's Pentimento, the story relates a true-life incident in her life when, at Julia's request, she (Hellman) smuggled money through Nazi Germany to help secure freedom for Jews and other political prisoners. The film also examines Hellman's relationship with writer Dashiell Hammett (Jason Robards). Director Fred Zinnemann brings a Graham Greenesque sense of intrigue to the adventure, and the pairing of Jane Fonda (Hellman) and Vanessa Redgrave (Julia) is pure magic. USA, 1977, 117 minutes, PG

Wed, Thurs & Sun: NETWORK 7:30/RULING CLASS 9:30
Fri & Sat: NETWORK 8:00/RULING CLASS 10:00

NETWORK is screenwriter Paddy Chayevsky's deliberately wicked, surreal, and cruelly funny attack on the quality of American life, as expressed through the vehicle of a television network and the way it runs amok in its search for audience and rating shares. The late Peter Finch is newscaster Howard Beale, who becomes the mad prophet of the airwaves ("I'm mad as hell, and I'm not going to take it anymore") and the brilliant cast also includes old-fashioned newsmen (William Holden), tv's new whiz-kids (Faye Dunaway), and corporate hatchet-men (Robert Duvall). Network is not meant to be realistic, but even in its more absurdist moments it hurts, like a good social comedy should. Directed by Sidney Lumet. USA, 1976, 120 minutes, R

THE RULING CLASS is a daring and very English comedy whose path veers widely from sacrilege to perversity, from farce to murder, from black vaudeville to music hall song & dance. It is a full-fledged frontal assault on the English class system and the comic conventions that have grown up about it in plays and movies over the years. Peter O'Toole has a field day as the mad 14th Earl of Gurney who believes he is Christ reincarnated – or maybe Jack the Ripper. He is merely funny at first, then disturbing, then devastating. With an all-star cast of British stylists. Directed by Peter Medak. England, 1972, 148 minutes, PG

13	14	15	16	17

Program 9

Wed, Thurs & Sun: FACE TO FACE 7:30/INTERIORS 9:45
Fri & Sat: FACE TO FACE 8:00/INTERIORS 10:15

FACE TO FACE finds Ingmar Bergman just as mysterious, haunting and contradictory as ever. Liv Ullmann plays a psychiatrist whose life suddenly starts to come apart at the seams. Bergman traces her despair, her unsuccessful suicide attempt, and her apparent recovery, dealing in the process with the reality of her marriage, family and friends. More than just a case history, his film is the drama of an intelligent woman's attempt to come to terms with her life. Ullmann's performance is a shattering tour de force, the most harrowing portrayal of a nervous breakdown you're ever likely to encounter on the screen. Sweden, 1975, 136 minutes, R

INTERIORS is Woody Allen's "serious" film without a single joke in it, and one has to admire his courage in undertaking what is a real culture shock for his regular comedy fans. It's an austere study of the emotional and spiritual exhaustion of a prosperous New York family, and Allen's script out-Bergmans Bergman in its fixation on scenes of frustration, self-hatred, and dread. Geraldine Page is the dominating mother, whose marriage to E.G. Marshall is coming apart, Maureen Stapleton is the warmhearted widow he wants to marry, and Diane Keaton, Marybeth Hurt and Kristin Griffith are the three high-strung daughters, each representing a different aspect of the struggle for dominance. Even if much of the material is nebulous and gloominess pervades, Interiors is somehow still mesmerizing, and the acting is brilliant. USA, 1978, 99 minutes, PG

20	21	22	23	24

Program 10

Wed, Thurs & Sun: PERFORMANCE 7:30/CLOCKWORK 9:20
Fri & Sat: PERFORMANCE 8:00/CLOCKWORK 9:50

PERFORMANCE is one of those box-office failures turned cult-classic. Gangster James Fox kills the wrong man and, pursued by his former associates, takes refuge in the pad of a bi-sexual, one-time rock star (Mick Jagger). Short on dialogue, logic or characterization, the film is long in references to Artaud, Norman O. Brown and Hesse. Its subjects include violence, identity, and role-playing, and there is much that is nasty, unpleasant and decadent. But Jagger is his hypnotic self, and if director Nicholas Roeg's visuals are pretentious, they are also dazzling. England, 1970, 110 minutes, R

A CLOCKWORK ORANGE was Stanley Kubrick's first film since 2001 and further confirmed his status as our most audacious and important American film director. Based on the Anthony Burgess novel, it moves on many levels at once: psychological, social, moral, and mythical. The setting is London in the near future, where gangs of roving, adolescent Teddy boys (like Malcolm McDowell's Alex and his Droogs) rule the night, with plenty of the old "ultra-violence" (this is not a film for the squeamish). Kubrick give us his icily brilliant vision of a future in which western society has become a mod slum, at once super-technologized and squalid, and takes a galvanizing and hypnotic look at those aspects of modern life that frighten us all. England, 1971, 137 minutes, R politician, bored and lonely, dutifully playing the part of the devoted wife. Paul Schrader, who did the screenplay for "Taxi Driver," is the director.

News of the Theatres

PERFORMANCE PLANNED In Park Amphitheatre, Creative Theatre's Performance Troupe will give its final performance of "The Journey," an original adaptation of Brian Way's "The Clown," on Saturday at 10:30 in the amphitheatre of Community Park North.

Recommended for the whole family, "The Journey" involves the audience in the life of a circus big-top, complete with clowns, a ring-master, and imaginary elephants and tigers. The audience becomes a film crew making a documentary about a famous clown's life, and everyone goes on a "journey" through enemy territory.

The amphitheatre is reached by taking the Mountain Avenue exit off Route 206. This performance is sponsored by the Princeton Youth Fund, and the theatre is made available by the Princeton Recreation Department.

MUSIC In Princeton

HANDEL WORK SET

By Community Chorus. The Princeton Pro Musica, conducted by Frances F. Slade, will perform the dramatic oratorio "Saul," by George Frederic Handel, on Saturday, June 7, at 8 at All Saints' Church, All Saints' and Terhune Roads. The Pro Musica, a program of the YWCA and YMCA, is a community chorus serving the Princeton area.

Handel call "Saul" a "sacred drama," and listed the soloists as "Dramatis Personae." The cast for this performance will include Allan Knotts, bass, in the role of Saul; John Kemp, tenor, as Jonathan; Peter Becker, countertenor, as David; Robert Thick, tenor, as the Amelekite; Mary Kemp, soprano, as Merab: Anne Ackley, soprano, as Michal; Lois Laverty, soprano, as the Witch of Endor; and Benjamin Seabrook, bass, as the Apparition of Samuel.

The chorus takes an active part in the drama, as the Chorus of Israelites, as well as singing the monumental anthem sections which give the work its structure.

Handel specified an unusually large orchestra for "Saul," requiring even a carillon. Orchestral movements include a "battle symphony" and the famous "Dead March." The concertmaster for the performance will be Daniel Schuman. The harpsichord continuo will be played by Helen Baker.

Admission to the concert will be $3.50 for adults and $1.50 for members of the YMCA or YWCA, students, and senior citizens, $1.50. Tickets may be obtained from members of the Princeton Pro Musica or at the YM-YWCA, on Paul Robeson Place. Tickets will also be available at the concert.

For further information, call 924-4825, ext. 22.

Jamboree Monday

The gifted and the talented and the just plain curious are invited to play and-or listen on Monday at 3 when the Princeton High School Orchestra will be joined by the visiting Metuchen High School Orchestra as well as various other students and adult musicians from this area. The unprecedented combo will assemble in the PHS gymnasium and sight-read through symphonies by Mozart and Schubert.

Each high school orchestra will have a turn to play a prepared piece for the other (probably the Boccherini and Lalo cello concerti) with soloists from the respective schools. Anyone of any age who is interested in playing should call Portia Sonnenfeld at 924-5600 or 924-4192.

PIANIST TO PLAY

At Woolworth Center. The Friends of Music will present a concert by pianist Sylvia Nichols on Friday at 8:30 in the Woolworth Center.

Mrs. Nichols is a native of New York City where she began her piano studies at the age of 5 at the Bronx House Music School. She is a graduate of the Juilliard Graduate School of Music where she studied on a fellowship for four years under the late Josef Lhevinne and his wife Rosina Lhevinne. Her performing career began when she was 14 years old, as soloist in Carnegie Hall with the National Orchestral Association under Leon Barzin. Mr. Barzin also conducted for her appearances with orchestras on stations WOR and WQXR in New York.

Her formal debut was in Town Hall, and she toured extensively under the Hurok Management. Mrs. Nichols is currently teaching piano at Princeton University. For her program she will play Beethoven, Sonata in A Major, Opus 101; Schumann, Sonata in G Minor, Opus 22; Chopin, Nocturne in E Major, Third Impromptu, Opus 51, Fantaisie, Opus 49 and Two Etudes by Liszt.

The concert is free and open to the public.

TWO CONCERTS SET

By University Chorus. The Princeton University Chamber Chorus, conducted by Prof. Walter Nollner, will sing two concerts in Princeton immediately prior to the start of its around-the-world tour this June and July.

The group will present a concert in the University Chapel Friday, June 8, at 8, commemorating the 75th anniversary of the birth of Arthur Mendel, eminent American music scholar and former chairman of the Department of Music at Princeton who died last October. Following a distinguished career as music editor and conductor, Prof. Mendel became chairman of the Department of Music in 1952, and continued his career as a musicologist, gaining particular renown in the fields of studies concerning Johann Sebastian Bach and Josquin Des Prez.

The commemoration concert will include the J.S. Bach motet "Der Geist hilft unsre Schwachheit auf" and the "Missa super "Ecce quam bonum" " by Hans Leo Hassler among other works. The concert is open to the public and admission is free.

Alumni Soloists. The Chamber Chorus will give a Gala Reunions Concert in Alexander Hall Saturday the 8th at 8:30, featuring alumni from major reunions classes who were members of the Princeton University Glee Club during their undergraduate days and who

Soviet Emigre Orchestra Will Play Sunday Evening in McCarter Theatre

Tickets are still available at the McCarter Theatre box office for the performance Sunday at 8 of the Soviet Emigre Orchestra, under the direction of Lazar Gosman, former leader of the Leningrad Chamber Orchestra.

The concert is an opportunity for music buffs in the Delaware Valley to hear this assemblage of talented Soviet artists who have found creative and personal freedom in the U.S. The orchestra has received enthusiastic reviews after appearances at Carnegie Hall and at the Philadelphia Academy of Music.

Jon and Elise Parker and Marty Okean are chairing the committee for concert to benefit the Hebrew Academy of Trenton. Other committee members include Ruth Sugarman, Ellie Ferrara and Dr. Howard Silberscher. Tickets for the concert are available at $25, $15 and $7.50 at the McCarter box office.

Clamma Dale, star of Broadway's "Porgy and Bess" will be the featured soloist. Proceeds from this event will benefit Princeton area youth services and help sustain the Symphony.

To provide working funds for the Pops Concert, advance sale of blocks of tickets to area businesses and groups is under way now. The Princeton Youth Fund is contacting firms, giving them an opportunity to buy blocks of tickets at a reduced rate for use by employees and their families. Businesses or organizations that have not been contacted can write to the Youth Fund at P.O. Box 47, or call the Princeton Chamber of Commerce at 921-7676 before June 4. Blocks of 15 tickets are $50 and will admit persons of any age.

Informational flyers will be distributed throughout the greater Princeton area later this week. Tickets will be available by mail order, or after June 9 at the YWCA and at Princeton area banks and savings and loan associations. The cost is $5 for adults ($6 at the gate), $3 for students and seniors, $1 for those under 18.

The Pops Concert is sponsored by the Princeton Chapter of New Jersey Symphony Orchestra League, the YWCA Bates Scholarship Fund and the Princeton Youth Fund.

have gone on to various accomplishments in music. James Sykes, a member of the 50th Reunion Class of 1930, has enjoyed a notable career as a concert pianist as well as having served for many years as the Chairman of the Department of Music at Dartmouth College. Raymond Fitzsimmons, Class of 1955, has concertized extensively in both Mexico and the United States, and appeared with the Glee Club several years ago as the tenior soloist in performances of Verdi's "Requiem."

William Parker, Class of 1965, has acquired an international reputation as both a concert singer and opera star. For several years he was a member of the Volksoper in Vienna, is currently a featured baritone with the Santa Fe Opera Company, and has won numerous prizes for his singing, including the major award recently from Kennedy Center in Washington, D.C. His recent appearances include performances with the New York philharmonic, the San Francisco Opera Company, as well as other American and foreign orchestras and opera companies.

For the June 7 concert he will sing a Papageno aria from Mozart's "Magic Flute" and songs by Poulenc and Ives. Mr. Fitzsimmons will sing compositions by Mozart, Bizet and Puccini, and the two together will sing a duet from Bizet's "Pearlfishers." Mr. Sykes will accompany the two as well as Mr. Fitzsimmons, and Prof. Nollner will accompany Mr. Parker.

Both singers will also appear as soloists with the Chamber Chorus which will also sing compositions by Brahms, Copland, and other American composers, as well as folksongs from around the world and Princeton songs to end the program. Tickets are obtainable weekday mornings by phoning 452-3048, or at the door on the evening of the performance.

The round-the-world tour will take the Chamber Chorus to San Francisco, Honolulu, Tokyo, Kyoto, Osaka, Yokohama, Hongkong, Canton and Delhi by July 17. Some 44 members of the group, all chosen from the Princeton University Chapel Choir and the Princeton University Glee Club, will begin the trip from Kennedy Airport in New York City on Wednesday morning, June 12, and will return six weeks later having concluded the first round-the-world trip (as far as is known) attempted by any organization from Princeton University.

POPS CONCERT PLANNED

AUDITIONS PLANNED

For "Carnival." The Studio Ensemble Theatre will hold auditions for the final casting of "Carnival" on Monday from 7-10 in the Fine Arts Center of Rider College.

The cast includes Lili, the young orphan girl, sung by a soprano; Rosalie, an older woman, alto or mezzo-soprano; Paul, a former dancer turned puppeteer, baritone tenor; Jacquot, Paul's assistant; Marco, a magician "leading man" type, baritone.

Other roles include B.F. Schlegel, the Carnival proprietor; Dr. Galss, a veterinarian; Princess Olga, the snake charmer; Gretel Schlegel, an 8 year old; Grobert, the souvenir salesman; as well as acrobats, jugglers, tight rope walkers, tumblers, gypsies, harem girls, clowns and assorted Carnival acts.

For further information call Michael Robertson, 924-4632.

FUNDS SOUGHT

By Creative Theatre. "When you're moving to front and center, you need a little backup" is the slogan for Creative Theatre Unlimited's first fund drive in three years.

"We are very pleased to announce that an anonymous donor has generously pledged to match funds we receive from other individuals during this campaign," said Charles Pierce, board president. "We are excited about this offer and the opportunities it provides us, so naturally we are looking forward to a healthy response from Creative Theatre friends."

Through its creative classes, workshops, and participatory theatre, this non-profit organization provides learning experiences in the creative process to children and adults throughout Central New Jersey. During the past year, CTU has reached 7000 children. Regular class enrollment has grown to 450 students from Mercer, Somerset, Middlesex, Hunterdon, and Monmouth counties; and it is primarily from residents in this broad community that CTU is seeking financial contributions this spring.

Besides three terms and a summer session of classes, the troupe and teachers this year presented 40 performances of three plays in repertory, led 12 workshops for teachers from private and public schools, and gave 91 special workshops for children. Creative Theatre was one of 13 teacher-student groups nationwide to be invited to participate in the Smithsonian's symposium celebrating the Year of the Child, and the troupe is now included in the National Endowment for the Arts Directory of recommended artist-in-schools programs.

According to treasurer Nancy Lichtenstein, CTU is making every effort to keep tuition fees stable and scholarships available throughout 1980. It has received grants from the Mercer County Cultural and Heritage Commission to help support the troupe's summer performances for Mercer County children and from the Princeton Youth Fund to sponsor special free activities for Princeton children. A high percentage of operating costs is earned by CTU's services, but part of annual expenses and budget for projected growth must be met by individual contributions.

Donations to help backup CTU's work are tax deductible and may be sent to Creative Theatre, 33 Mercer Street, Princeton.

In addition to Mr. Pierce and Mrs. Lichtenstein board members include Diana Crane, vice-president; Suzanne A. Starr, secretary; trustees Sherman M. Ancier, Wendy Benchley, Susan M. Brainerd, Pat Cline, Pat Cope, Joanne Coppola, David Holmes, Myrna Jenkins, Jacquie Johnson, Robert Lanchester, Julianna McIntyre, Sharon Rose Powell, Dana Powsner, Marcia Van Dyck, Martha Otis Wright, Lois Young; and student members Peter Dolotta, Jennifer Van Dyck and Emilie White.

TWO FOR THE LAKE

Summer Theatre at Peddie. The Theatre-by-the-Lake -- the lake being the one at Peddie School in Hightstown -- will observe its eighth season of summer theatre with a pair of musicals, and auditions have already been scheduled.

The shows will be Stephen Sondheim's "A Little Night Music" and a big-band musical of the '40s written in the '70s, "Over Here."

Auditions for "A Little Night Music" will be Monday and Tuesday, June 2 and 3 at 7 p.m. in Geiger-Reeves Hall on the campus of Peddie School. Production dates are Fridays and Saturdays, July 11-12 and 18-19.

Try-outs for "Over Here" will be Monday and Tuesday, July 14 and 15 in Geiger-Reeves Hall, with performances on Fridays and Saturdays, August 15-16 and 22-23. Backstage crews are also needed for both productions. Work will be in set construction, make-up, electrical work, painting, props, box-office, publicity and stage-managing. The public is invited to audition for all.

"A Little Night Music," a stylish celebration of romantic love, is set in the birch groves of Sweden at the turn of the century. It involves leisured land-owners whose chief problems are love affairs. "Over Here," written for the Andrews Sisters, evokes the USO and World War II canteens. The score is by Richard and Robert Sherman.

FOR OUTDOOR LIVING

Shop Princeton Hardware. Comforts and conveniences from Princeton Hardware make summer living easy and pleasant and offer many attractive choices for Father's Day, June 15.

Barbecue grills and utensils, picnic supplies, patio candles and lawn torches make outdoor meals festive and fun, lawn and garden tools and products ease outdoor chores, summer housewares offer many conveniences and power and hand tools aid vacation projects or speed household repairs. Seasonal sales throughout the year now include many summer items at substantial savings and a hospitable staff provides friendly, efficient service.

EASY SUMMER LIVING begins at Princeton Hardware where Joe Carson is manager. The store has barbecue grills and ice cream freezers for outdoor meals, lawn and garden tools and supplies to ease outdoor chores, electric fans and summer housewares for indoor comfort and convenience and helpful power and hand tools that will please father on his day, June 15.

Outdoor Living. Weber's domed barbecue grills, wooden handled barbecue utensils, skewers, broilers, charcoal briquets and fire starters insure many successful cookouts. Patio candles with citronella and tropical lawn torches provide outdoor lighting for summer evenings. Li'l Sizzler and Sunbeam bug traps clear annoying bugs from large outdoor areas such as patios and pools, picnic grounds and tennis courts.

Food and beverage carriers – styrofoam chests, insulated totes, jugs and bottles in a variety of sizes, colors or designs – keep picnic fare hot or cold and ready to serve away from home. Reuseable ice packs, restored by the freezer, keep food cool up to 72 hours. Electric ice cream freezers or old-fashioned hand-cranked models make refreshing home-made ice cream for summer enjoyment. Insect repellants in spray and towelette form keep unwelcome insects from sharing the feast.

Indoor Comfort. Portable electric fans stir the air with cooling breezes – window fans in 8" or 10" sizes adjust to window openings, floor fans are 14" or 20" models and oscillating table fans 8" to 16", by Panasonic, have three speeds.

Window shades in plain or textured vinyl, vinyl-coated cloth or Fiberglas keep out the hot sun or darken rooms for sleeping. The shades are offered in a wide range of prices beginning at $4.50 for a 37¼" width and will be cut to your window size by the store.

Lawn and Garden Supplies. Ames tools for lawn and garden include spades, rakes, cultivators, hoes and also grass shears, hedge trimmers and lopping shears. Power-assisted – cordless or electric – grass trimmers and edgers by Black and Decker and Disston make yard work easier. Jackson's light or heavy duty wheelbarrows in several sizes transport tools, plants, garden supplies and landscaping materials. Reinforced vinyl hoses by Supplex and Nelson's lawn sprinklers supplement rainfall. Hose reels, hose fittings and hose repair kits can also be purchased.

Ortho's complete line of garden products – pesticides, fungicides and herbicides keep plants healthy and productive. Fertilizer and grass seed are supplied by Scott and Lofts and the store carries Burpee's flower and vegetable seeds. Other gardening aids include Canadian peat moss, black plastic mulching, plant stakes, tomato cages, and Vinyl-Gard fencing for yards or borders. New "Bag - A- Bug" traps Japanese beetles in disposable bags and "Snail Jails" trap snails and slugs.

Summer Housewares. Egg slicers, cheese slicers, ice and serving tongs, food and ice cream scoops, sandwich spreaders, Mirro jello molds and Ecko's knives and utensils make meal preparation easier on hot summer days. Cookware by leading makers -- Ecko's Baker's Secret – non-stick cookware, Wearever's aluminum with Silverstone cooking surfaces, Farberware stainless steel with aluminum clad bottoms, and Revere Ware stainless steel with copper bottoms – cook foods efficiently and are easy to clean. A large selection of door mats -- cocoa fiber, seagrass, woven fiber, marbelized rubber, Astro Turf or carpet bonded to vinyl -- keep grass clippings, garden dirt and rainy day tracks outside.

Storage organizers are Rubbermaid's slide-out drawers, grocery bag holders, cutlery trays, ironing organizers and clean-up caddies in gold, avocado, almond and brown. Rubbermaid's shelf and drawer lining in coordinating solids and patterns has a tack back to hold it in place. Shulte's Stor-Racks of vinyl-coated steel make use of space behind doors, above counters and inside closets. Grayline's helper shelves of vinyl-coated steel double shelf space.

Tools for Father. Proper tools for each job speed household repairs and achieve professional results. Father would welcome power tools such as Black and Decker's finishing sander, bench top workmate and circular saw or Rockwell's cordless ⅜" drill, 2 speed jigsaw and 8" bench-top table saw. Stanley hand tools include a utility knife, ripping chisel and 20-foot powerlock tape. Weller's 8-piece solder gun kit, Arrow's heavy duty staple gun, an aluminum extension ladder, Sentry's hip roof tool boxes and TTC's 74-piece master tool set are also Father's Day possibilities.

Services. Princeton Hardware will sharpen your scissors, duplicate your keys, repair your storm windows and screens, and replace glass inserts in storm doors with safety plastic, as required by law. The store also participates in the Princeton Senior Citizens Discount Program, offering 10 percent off on all purchases except those on sale.

Princeton Hardware is in the Princeton Shopping Center, North Harrision Street. Tom Carson is manager; Ernie Procaccino is assistant manager. Store hours are 9-5:30, Monday through Friday; 8:30-5 Saturday.

Two piece dresses include an overblouse with long sleeves and mandarin collar with a dirndl skirt, in a soft green, pink and beige print, piped with pink, $35.99, and a blouse and skirt made from a dark print brightened with pink showing bordered trim along the button front opening, collar and cap sleeves of the blouse and the skirt's hemline flounce, $33.99.

Charming Casuals. Summer dresses in flower-like colors have many attractive details. Embroidery adds charm to a tiered dress with square neck and cap sleeves in pink, blue, or lavender, $25.99. Vertical tucks give a crisp look to the yoke of a mandarin-collared dress with cap sleeves – red, yellow, blue, or green, $21.99. A feminine shirtwaist of embroidered fabric has cap sleeves and a skirt with side slits; white, blue, aqua, $35.99.

Baretop Sundresses. A sundress with fullness gathered to an embroidered yoke can be sashed with a self tie; rose, yellow, blue or white. Exotic birds are embroidered on the pockets of a dress with elasticized top and waist, also rose, yellow, blue or white.

Eyelet embroidery was selected for a dress with a tiered look and a drawstring waist, in blue, purple, rose or white; all $26.99 each. Two sundresses in soft, light cotton are an India print, predominantly light blue, lavender or navy, that would look at ease in the city, $24.99, and a style with a shirred elasticized bodice and a jacket with drawstring neckline in blue with lavender, or rose with lavender print, for daytime into evening, $30.99.

Skirts. A-line wrap skirts display animals, oriental figures or paisley designs in muted colors of rose, green, purple or gray, $7.99, and are also shown in pastel shades with embroidered details, $19.99.

Dirndl skirts with button front placket and tie have embroidered pockets and a scalloped embroidered hem, in blue, purple, red or white, $17.99; a similar style in green, beige or blue with more elaborate embroidery is $19.99. Tiered skirts made from contrasting prints in soft colors are $17.99.

Tops. Blouses in a variety of styles and colors are made from handkerchief weight cotton or crinkle cotton, in sizes 34-44 or small, medium or large. Crinkle cotton is styled as a long-sleeved, round neck blouse with button placket – yellow, purple, blue, hot pink, rust, green, gold or off-white – embroidered with designs in the same color, $3.99. A blouse with small collar and cap sleeves edged with ruffles and dainty crocheted lace, in yellow, pink, or blue crinkle cotton, is $10.99.

Handkerchief weight cotton in blue, yellow, dark rose or white is used in a shirt style blouse with embroidered neck opening, shoulders and scalloped sleeves, a mandarin-collared blouse with cap sleeves, detailed with embroidery, and a mandarin-collared blouse with button placket and embroidered yoke price at $14.99 each. Basketweave embroidery accents the yoke and shoulders of a sleeveless, round neck blouse in pink, white, or blue, $10.99. Large embroidered flowers create back interest for a blouse with small collar and short sleeves – deep rose, yellow, blue or white, $16.99

Pants and Play Clothes. Williwear's high-waisted baggy pants in cotton gabardine are dark green, beige, or rose, $10. Prewashed denim blue jeans by Shadows are $22.99. Sasson's fashion jeans are off-white, blue, red, or brown, $29.99. Terry play clothes by Westside, Ltd. include shorts with an elasticized waist and a strapless two-toned top of geometric design -- yellow, green, navy, or orange with white – $12.99. Westside, Ltd. also makes a one piece romper – solid color top with tied shoulder straps and white shorts with matching piping – in yellow, pink, green, blue, or royal, $12.99.

Jewelry Boxes, Totes. Cotton Fantasy has a collection of jewelry boxes of hand carved wood, papier mache with hand-painted designs and soapstone inlaid with mother of pearl and other materials. Canvas totes in a variety of styles are $4 each. Wall hangings, handcrafted in India, display velvet elephants ornamented with mirrored pieces, $8, or feathered birds on matchstick bamboo, $10.

Cotton Fantasy, 6½ Chambers Street, is owned by Mashood Siddiqi. Store hours are 10-5, Monday through Saturday.

Clubs and Organizations

The Mercer County Stroke Club will hold its fourth annual picnic on Wednesday, June 4, at 11 in the Merwick Rehabilitation Activities Room, 79 Bayard Lane. All stroke victims and their families are welcome.

Officers of the Princeton University League for the 1980-81 academic year were named at the University's League's annual meeting.

Mrs. Joseph Smagorinsky, 21 Duffield Place, continues as president of the social and service organization of Princeton University. Others members of the executive committee are Mrs. William Bowen, chairman; Mrs. Robert Mills, first vice president; Mrs. Robert Dewar, second vice president; Mrs. Howard Ende, third vice president; Mrs. Jon Hlafter, corresponding secretary; Mrs. William Russell, assistant corresponding secretary; Mrs. George Pinder, membership secretary; Mrs. R.J. Rowring, assistant membership secretary; Mrs. Robert Naumann, recording secretary; Mrs. Edward Cox, treasurer.

Other League board members serving as committee chairpersons are Mrs. Kenneth Young, Art Museum volunteers; Mrs. David Harrje, constitution and by-laws; Mrs. Robert Stengel, editorial; Mrs. John Suppe, English conversation; Mrs. Chester Rapkin, furniture exchange; Mrs. Theodore Ziolkowski, memorial funds; Mrs. Richard Coleman, newcomers; Mrs. Theodore Rabb, nominating; Mrs. Robert Applebaugh, office volunteers; Mrs. Stephen Kidd, public relations; Mrs. Eugene McPartland, refreshments; Mrs. Henry Frank, trip coordinator.

Others who act in liason with University programs are Mrs. Peter Bloomfield, Mrs. Robert Phinney, International Center.

Members of the Rocky Hill Community Group held their 15th annual membership meeting to elect new officers and view slides of old maps, the defunct railway train, the terra cotta factory and gristmill, the churches, and the traditional houses that line the main streets of the town. The photographs were part of the Community Group's effort to research the early history of the town, which may lead to the designation of the area as a historic district.

Officers elected to the board for the coming year were Mary Hayden, president; John Murphy, first vice president; Jane Howe, second vice president; Lucy Molfetas, secretary; and Joan Eckstein, treasurer.

In addition, the following committee appointments were made: recreation, Carol Henderson, Abraham Oort; publicity, Helen Gorenstein, Norma Goetz; finance, Joan Eckstein; membership, Betty Roach, Mary Regan; historical, Monema Kenyon, John Murphy; classes, Janet Sykes, Marilyn Crane; house and grounds, Carl Robbins, Jane Howe; hospitality, Leslie Posner, Chris Bloomfield; flower sale, Vicky Dean, Mary Lott; Bid 'n Buy, Pat Cross; library, Gloria Mack; liaison to Mary Jacobs Library, Laura Stabler.

The Board has voted to contribute, on a matching sum basis, $10,000 toward the construction of an addition to the Mary Jacobs Memorial Library. Another activity is the research to establish Rocky Hill as an Historic District.

The alumnae of Kappa Alpha Theta will hold their annual spring tea Sunday from 3 to 5 at the home of Mrs. Kenneth W. Fisher, 33 Stuart Close. All Theta alumnae, activities and their daughters and sisters are invited. For information and directions call Mrs. Fisher at 921-2146.

The Women's College Club elected officers at its annual meeting;

Mrs. Donald Grove, president; Miss Jean Louise Williams, vice president; Mrs. John J. Leahy, recording secretary; Mrs. Scott T. Ritenour, corresponding secretary; Mrs. James Pendergass, treasurer; Mrs. Dietrich Meyerhofer, and Mrs. Howard Diggs, members-at-large.

Committee chairmen elected are Mrs. John Mason, blue slip; Mrs. William Frazier, directory; Mrs. Barton Kreuzer, historian; Mrs. William L. Powell, and Mrs. Clifford W. Slaybaugh, hospitality; Mrs. John L. Cullen, investments; Mrs. George D. Eggers, Jr., membership; Mrs. Leon A. Greenberg, memorial fund; Mrs. H.L. Arnould, neighborhood activities; Mrs. Albert G. Chenicek, and Mrs. Robert Warner, program; Mrs. Prince A. Taylor, Jr., publicity; Mrs. Lawrence Stifel, scholarship, and Mrs. Nat Robertson, special interests.

The Princeton Branch of the American Association of University Women will hold a covered dish international supper on Wednesday, June 4, at All Saints' Church on Terhune Road. Members and guests will gather for punch and a social hour at 6:30, and supper will follow at 7. Officers will be installed for the coming year.

Prospective members are welcome. Reservations may be made by calling Phyllis Roney at (201) 329-2782

ART CLASSES LISTED

For Summer Session. The Princeton Art Association will begin its summer session of classes on Monday with the biweekly painting with oil and acrylics, instructed by Elizabeth Ruggles. This will be followed by a life workshop (no instruction) in the afternoon, a litbography workshop taught by Marie Sturken either morning or evening and a figure drawing class instructed by Jacques Fabert.

A new painting workshop for painters who have had prior experience taught by Patricia Stone, and the twice-a-week classes by Judi Niemann in the uses of the sketchbook will start Tuesday. Tuesday evening offers a life workshop (no instruction).

Wednesday has Elizabeth Ruggles' painting with oils and acrylics, watercolor by Linda Lombardi, fundamentals of drawing and basic painting taught by Fred Scudder in the evening. Thursday brings Jacques Fabert's afternoon class in figure drawing and John Carbone's sculpture at 7:30. On Friday Fred Scudder takes the more experienced student through oil and acrylic painting, while Bunny Neuman's painting for senior adults allows experimentation in a non-competitive atmosphere.

Sunday offers "how to Use Your Camera" with the photographer, Richard Armington and the life workshop," Sunday with a nude" (no instruction).

Classes for Young People offers in June, "Adventures in Creativity" (Tuesday) and cartooning (Saturday) both by Eva Kaplan. Michael Pascucci teaches ages 11 and up drawing and painting on Friday while Roland Roberge instructs sculpture for ages 6-10 on Saturday.

Most classes can be taken for four or eight week periods. For further information and registration, call 921-9173. Many of the above classes continue into the month of July with the addition of collographic printmaking with Elizabeth Monath and for young people, Eva Kaplan's art and leather, introduction to watercolor taught by Jane Schwilk, basic drawing, by Roland Roberge and art and paper, Eva Kaplan.

Bus Trip Planned

The Princeton Art Association will sponsor a bus trip to SoHo, the 12 block area south of Houston Street, in Manhattan on Wednesday, June 11. The bus will leave at 9 from the Princeton Shopping Center.

SoHo offers eclectic choices in art, shopping and restaurants. Its many galleries have exhibits ranging from super-realism, conceptual art, environments, wall hangings, holograms, outdoor sized sculptures and video art.

For further information and registration call 921-2173.

CURRENT EXHIBITS

Seven residents of the Princeton area are among those represented in the second Fellowship Exhibit of the New Jersey State Council on the Arts which opened Saturday at the State Museum in Trenton. In all, 50 visual artists from the state are showing photography, oils, acrylics, watercolors, graphics, sculpture, ceramics, printmaking and collage.

From Princeton: Cliff Moore and Richard Speedy, photography; Jane Kent, printmaking; Esther Luttikhulzen, fiber; from Hopewell: Christina Craig, collage, and Charles Kumnick, sculpture; from Hightstown: Frances Orlando, photography.

Also on display is a portfolio of work by the New Jersey State Council on the Arts literary fellowship recipients for 1978-80. Represented here are Michael Schneltse of Princeton in playwriting and Jean Jollander of Hopewell in poetry.

POPSICLE SEASON IS HERE: Holly Killmer, William Evert and Patrick Vedder are making fruit juice popsicles with Tupperwere Ica Tups. Tupperware products can be ordered from La Leche Laague now through June 6. To place an order call Jeckie Vedder, 799-2189, Peggy Killmar, 921-8254, or Lyn Hamilton, 921-2923.

Prioceton Day School is now exhibiting paintings, drawings, sculpture and photographs done by students in grades kindergarten through 12 during the course of the academic year.

The artwork is displayed in the various lobbies and halls of the lower, middle and upper schools as well as in the Anne Reid Art Gallery. The show is open to the public at no charge weekdays from 8:30 to 3:30. For more information or special tours, call Mrs. Arlene Smith at the school, 924-6700.

Inn. The following officers will be installed for 1980-81: president, Mrs. Nathaniel McKee; vice president, Mrs. Harold B. Shamyer; secretary, Mrs. Peter Hodge; and treasurer, Mrs. Walter Obal.

The YWCA's Monthly Evening Book Group for working women will meet on Thursday, June 5, from 7 to 8:30 at the YM-YWCA building on Paul Robeson Place to discuss "I Never Promised You a Rose Garden" by Hanna Green. Coffee will be served.

The YWCA International Club will have a picnic Saturday from 2-8 at the Hun School. Members should bring their own food; the club will provide soft drinks and ice.

The Rev. and Mrs. Frederick Schott, bereaved parents, will speak on "Mother and Father Points of View" at the meeting of the Mercer Area Chapter of Compassionate Friends Tuesday at 8 in the George Thomas Lounge of Trinity church, 33 Mercer Street. Mr. Schott is pastor of the Prince of Peace Lutheran Church in West Windsor, and his wife, Roberta, is a researcher for the assistant to the president of the Lutheran Church of America.

Compassionate Friends is a national self-help organization of bereaved parents. The Mercer Area Chapter provides monthly meetings and discussions, a newsletter, a hot line, and a small library for its members. All bereaved parents are invited. For further information call Rob and Sue Kugler, 448-4870, Paula and Lew Resnick, 448-3231, or Roger and Marcia Alig, 799-3414.

The Singles Fellowship will hold a meeting for single parents on Saturday at 8 at Nassau Presbyterian Church, Nassau Street opposite Palmer Square. There will be a speaker on "single parenting," and all single parents are invited. The donation is $3.

Princeton Chapter Daughters of the American Revolution will hold their annual business meeting and installation of officers for 1980-1982 at the Bainbridge House on Thursday at 11. Bring a box lunch.

Mrs. Daniel Herrick, a member of the Princeton Chapter DAR, has arranged the Historical Society's spring exhibit, "Fakes & Originals," a display of furniture and decorative art. A board meeting will be held at 10 before the annual meeting.

The Hollstic Health Association will meet on Monday, June 9 at 8 at the Unitarian Church. Derk and Kathleen Loeks will discuss "Holistic Healing," exploring the source of the individual's healing process and looking toward a means of developing a holistic program to meet individual needs.

The Loeks are directors of the Institute of Essential Integration, an educational research organization investigating the nature of man in the context of his spiritual being. This involves the Institute in a wide range of disciplines including kinesiolgoy, anatomy and physiology, the performing arts, planetary ecology, clean energy technology, psychology, meditation and the nature of healing.

PHS Nine Can Still Earn Tie for CVC Title

"It was a tough week, a rough and tumble week," said PHS coach Jim O'Neill.

"We played very well on occasion." But it was a week in which the Little Tigers lost, 5-3, to Notre Dame in the semi-final round of the first annual Mercer County Tournament when the Irish scored three runs in the last inning, aided by a controversial call at second base.

A week in which the previous day, PHS was bounced, 7-1, by top-seeded Ridge from the Central Jersey Group 2 NJSIAA competition, a week in which it was upset, 9-6, by West Windsor in the Colonial Valley Conference league race, putting the Little Tigers in a hole. PHS must now win its last two and hope that McCorriatin will defeat Notre Dame to force a four-way tie. PHS, ND, Lawrence and McCorriatin would all finish with 8-4 records.

Only at the start of the week did the ball bounce Princeton's way. Pitching with two-days' rest, Judd Petrone needed only 79 pitches to subdue Metuchen, 6-2, in Princeton's opening round NJSIAA win.

The Little Tigers have one final rough and tumble week left. And although some goals have been denied them, "we still have a lot of things to shoot for," said O'Neill.

When PHS plays Hightstown on Friday, it will be its fifth game in five days. In the only home game among the five, the Little Tigers will oppose West Windsor again on Thursday at 3:45 and this Wednesday at 5 they will face Trenton High in the consolation game of the Mercer County Tournament at Mercer Park. Notre Dame plays Steinert for the title.

PHS Leads Notre Dame. For an inning, it appeared that PHS was going to defeat Notre Dame by one run for the third time this season at Mercer Park when the Blue and White scored a pair of runs in the sixth to take a 3-2 lead. Brent Robinson's single scored Mark Adams who had reached base on an error and advanced on Keith Phox's sacrifice. Robinson then stole second and came home on Petrone's single.

Andy Kulinski, who went the distance for PHS, was three outs away, facing the bottom of the Irish lineup. Bob Riccia, however, opened the inning with a single – his third hit – but was forced at second by sophomore Ron Ailey. When Ailey stole second, the only thievery involved PHS, as far as O'Neill was concerned.

"He was out by five feet," insisted O'Neill. But the umpire ruled that Dan Miller's peg to second baseman Mark Adams was on the first-base side of the bag and when Adams tagged the diving Ailey around the waist his hand was already on the base. "It wasn't even close," fussed O'Neill.

Kulinsky gave up another walk but Gary Breza flied to center with what should have been the game-ending out, in O'Neill's mind. Instead, Kulinski walked Tom Porcelli and Paul Levin connected for an infield single to tie the score. With the bases jammed, Tom Keefe then ended the Irish's frustration with the Little Tigers by ripping a two-run single. ND (17-6) outhit PHS, 8-4. Bete Brescia got the win.

PHS gave a good account of itself against Ridge but the dominant figure was Ridge hurler Brad Powell, who entered the game with a 7-0 record, including two no-hitters. As a team, Ridge is 18-1.

The 6-5, 200-pound Powell, who was 7-1 last year as a sophomore in Michigan, limited PHS to four hits, a double and single by Robinson and singles by Adams (Mercer County's leading hitter) and John Pirone. He struck out eight. Powell added a two-run homer in the seventh to show he is just as effective as a batter.

SPORTS In Princeton

Ridge coach Pete Hall told O'Neill that PHS had hit Powell as hard as any team all year. His eight strikeouts were his low for the year. "It certainly wasn't one of his best days," added Hall.

But Ridge did excel on defense, O'Neill said, taking away the Little Tigers' running game. Petrone pitching for the third time in a week and again with two days rest "just didn't have the control he had on Wednesday," said O'Neill. Walks and four PHS errors allowed Ridge to score some unearned runs before it put the game out of reach with three in the seventh.

Lippincott Starts. To save his best for the key contests, O'Neill gambled in the West Windsor game and brought up sophomore Clark Lippincott from the jayvee squad. Lippincott went four and a third innings and yielded six runs before giving way to Frank Whittaker. Whittaker was believed to have been lost to the team with an infection but the doctor gave him an okay to return, O'Neill reported.

Whittaker struck out five and contributed a run-scoring double but the Pirates' Buzz Schwing singled home one run and Rich Williams drove home two more with another single in the sixth and Whittaker was charged with the loss.

Adams and Petrone drove in runs for PHS as each connected for a triple. Both teams had nine hits.

Adams, Pirone and Robinson all clouted run scoring doubles in the Metuchen win aod although Petrone was solved for eight hits by the losers, O'Neill called it his "best outing."

"He had great control. He was coming in with the first pitch and had them guessing all day."

PHS Trips Ewing. Scoring three runs in the last inning to force a 6-6 tie, PHS added three more in the eighth to defeat Ewing Monday, 9-7.

Judd Petrone singled home Mark Adams who had gotten on via an error and Brent Robinson, who had walked and then rode home on John Tevebaugh's second hit of the game.

Ewing scored one run in its half of the eighth but failed to score any more off reliefer Petrone, who got the win, his fourth against two setbacks. John Pirone earlier in the game batted in two Little Tiger runs with a pair of hits.

The game dropped Ewing, which will become a member of the CVC league next year, below .500 at 11-12, while PHS climbed one game above .500.

PDS WINS FINAL GAME

In Lacrosse. Almost as an after-thought to its season, the Princeton Day lacrosse team blew out Dwight-Englewood, 15-3, in its final game Friday, a make-up of a contest postponed by rain earlier this spring.

The most notable thing about the game, the outcome of which was never in doubt, was the play of one particular attackman, or to be more precise and less chauvanistic - - attackwoman. Wearing a little extra protection under her jersey, Susie Haynes became the first girl to compete on a boys' team at the school.

SPORTS FANS I BET YOU DIDN'T KNOW

Brought to You by John Bernard

It seems hard to believe now, but the team that won the most World Series in the 1970s was the Oakland A's ... The A's won three World Series – in 1972, '73 and '74 ... Other World Series winners in the 1970s were the Pirates with two, the Yankees with two, the Reds with two, and the Orioles with one.

One of the most incredible sports feats of all-time was achieved by weightlifting champion Paul Anderson ... He set a world record in 1957 by lifting 6,270 POUNDS ... That's the greatest weight ever lifted by a human being.

I bet you didn't know ... that many health insurance plans including Blue Cross - Blue Shield do not cover children after they reach 19 years old.

Here's an oddity ... In big league baseball history, no player ever stole as many as six bases in one game except Eddie Collins – and he did it TWICE within 11 days ... Collins stole six bases in a game September 11, 1912 and again on September 22, 1912 ... Nobody else has been able to do that even once, before or since.

Sienkiewicz, Schoch Win

John Sienkiewicz, a former member of Springdale Golf Club now playing out of Bedens Brook, recalled enough about the course to team with Dick Schoch last weekend to win the annual Member-Guest Tournament. Schoch is the current club president and Sienkiewicz served in that capacity while at Springdale.

Points were awarded for each eagle, birdie and par recorded by the competing twosomes, with 34 teams entered and all players using full handicaps. The winners with 88 points were five ahead of the runnersup.

In second place were Wendell Breithaupt and Ben DeVido, followed by Steve Kahn and G. Barrett III. Art Yard and Jake McCandless, the former Princeton football coach, finished fourth, with George Ford and Herb Leinbach fifth. Kahn and Sienkiewicz won prizes for the longest drives during the two-day event, while prizes for shots closest to the pin on the 128-yard 15th hole went to B. Shaffer and Jim Litvack.

She acquitted herself very well reported coach Bob Krueger. She picked up ground balls well, managed to strip the ball from one Dwight-Englewood player, and had five shots on goal, one of which just missed bouncing in. Wearing a helmet and pants like the rest of the PDS team, she apparently went unnoticed by the Dwight-Englewood players.

Meanwhile, Tom von Oehsen was scoring goals at a record rate, adding seven points to his total for the season of somewhere around 80, the most ever by a PDS player according to Krueger. He stands a good chance of winning the state undivided scoring honors. Billy Ross also turned in a fine performance, scoring four goals; Joe Warren and Phil Ferrante had two apiece, and Kevin Johnson and Tim Murdoch, one each. John Drezner contributed three assists.

Looking toward next season, Krueger will not lose many players, but those graduating have been key members of the team. The two high scorers, von Oehsen and Ross will depart, as will Murdoch, excellent on face-offs, Billy Haynes and Neil Munroe at midfield, and John Banse and Adam Barton on defense.

NEAR MISS FOR PHS

In Track Sectionals. Princeton High School just missed becoming the Central Jersey Group 2 track champion Saturday in North Brunswick when it lost a close finish in the deciding event, the 1600 relay to South Brunswick. With the win, South Brunswick edged the Little Tigers for the team title, 43½ to 41.

Holmdel was a distant third with 24 points. Hopewell Valley, the Colonial Valley Conference champions, and Lawrence each finished back in the pack with seven points each.

After Lamont Fletcher, Jon Woolston and John Perkins had each run 400 meters in the climactic 1600 for PHS there was still no commanding lead for either the Little Tigers or South Brunswick. That left it up to the anchor runners, Paul Miles for PHS and John Duhon of the Vikings. Miles, who had finished second to South River's Ken Jackson in both the 100 and 200 meter sprints

Stuart Again Nips PDS for Girls' Lacrosse Title

The campuses of Stuart Country Day and Princeton Day are little more than the toss of a lacrosse ball apart out on the Great Road, and last Wednesday afternoon on a Lawrenceville School field less than that separated the two school girls' lacrosse teams in their quest for the New Jersey Independent Schools' championship.

The teams had been down the same road just a year ago, when Stuart defeated PDS in a sudden death overtime to capture the title, and once again extra time was necessary to determine the winner – Stuart for the second consecutive year.

The cool and rainy afternoon did nothing to dampen the highly-charged emotions prevalent during the contest.

Remembering the loss of a year ago and another Stuart victory earlier this season, Princeton Day was eager for revenge, perhaps too eager when the game got underway. For while there is little to choose between the two teams on the ability level, it was Stuart that seemed better equipped to handle the pressure. PDS never seemed to shake its pre-game jitters.

The match seesawed back and forth with neither team able to gain a clear advantage for very long. Stuart held a slim one-goal lead at the half, 3-2, but the Panthers, despite the loss of wing Sarah Burchfield early in the second half, rallied to take a 6-4 lead with 14 minutes remaining.

Stuart then produced two scores in the next two minutes, and the teams traded goals again, before entering a nine-minute defensive duel that used up the remaining regulation time.

When the overtime began, PDS still had not settled into a smooth style of play. Although it won the face-off, a key advantage at that point, it wasted the opportunity on an ill-advised shot.

Gaining control, Stuart moved the ball rapidly downfield. PDS defenders made several attempts, all in vain, to knock the ball loose, finally fouling Barb van Horn about 15 yards from the net. The referee gave van Horn five yards of free space to start from, and she responded by firing in the game-winning goal for an 8-7 Stuart victory.

Van Horn shared scoring honors with Mary Beth Hughes and Gabby Di Bianco with two goals apiece, Jenny Powers and Cathy Northup added single tallies. Linda Littel had a superb game for PDS, scoring four times, Cathy Edelmann, Susie Haynes and Camie Carrington scored once. Both goalies played well; Caroline Cuesta made 18 saves for PDS, Val van Horn had 19 for Stuart.

Stuart finished its season with an 8-2-1 mark, under first-year coach Lynn Watkins PDS ended 11-3. The two schools are definitely the class of the private school league and may well end up at the same spot next year.

with times of 11.1 and 22.5, tried to open up an early lead against Duhon. But Duhon refused to fall back and sprinted past Miles in the stretch.

"Everybody went all out," said PHS coach Marc Anderson. "We knew it was between South Brunswick and us. We just had a couple of bad breaks."

PHS had two individual champions. John Perkins held on to outlast a closing bid by Collin Lord of South Brunswick to win the 800 meter in 1:59.6 to 2:00.2 for Lord. Probably the easiest winner was Peter Sharpless, who won the high jump with a leap of 6-8½ – 6½ inches higher than second-place Tim Mazzella of Hopewell Valley.

Sharpless says his goal is to clear seven feet before the season is over. His best this year has been 6-10. The Mercer County record is 6-11 and the state record is 7-2, set last year by Milt Goode of Monmouth Junction.

The Little Tigers picked up valuable points on second-place finishes by John Kellogg in the 1500 (4:07.9), Stephan Fletcher in the 110 high hurdles (15.5) and Lamont Fletcher in the 400 IH (59.4). Wayne Davis was third in the 110 HH and Tom Fisher fourth in the 800 for PHS.

In the Central Jersey Group 2 girls track sectional championships held at South Plainfield and won by Hopewell Valley with 30 points, Princeton's Gladys Rice captured the long jump with a leap of 5.18 meters. Julie Ellis was second to Bev Minnis of South River in the 400 meter with a clocking of 60.5 (Minnis was 60.0) and Fran Coughlin was fourth in the 3000 meters. PHS also won 4x400 relay, edging Hopewell Valley, 4:09.8 to 4:12.8.

Earlier in the week, PHS swamped McCorristin, 92-39, in a CVC meet to run its dual meet record to 6-1. The only loss has been an opening setback by Hopewell Valley.

Miles was a triple winner, taking the 100, 200 and long jump. Sharpless cleared 6-7 to win the high jump, while Peter Hutter led a PHS sweep in the 1500. Hutter's time: 4:20.

Other winners for the Little Tigers were Stefan Fletcher in the high hurdles, Lamont Fletcher in the 300 IH hurdles, Jon Woolston in the 400, Kellogg in the 800, Steve Cundiff in the 3000, Tom Murray in the shot, and Peter Young in the discus. Tom Fisher, John Perkins, Lamont Fletcher and Woolston combined to win the 1500 meter relay in 3:40.

HUN NINE REBOUNDS

With Pair of Victories. The Hun School baseball team rebounded from last week's tough loss to Lawrenceville in the Class A Prep School championship game with two victories.

Hun defeated Delbarton, 6-1, behind a three-hitter by Angelo Barbero. Among 11 Hun hits was Keith Greener's homer. Tommy Zahn had three hits for the Red Raiders while Greg Otto doubled. Greener drove in three runs with his homer and a single. The win was Barbero's fourth against one loss. It was Hun's 15th win in 20 games.

Miles Still Sizzling

Paul Miles, Princeton High's standout sprinter and long jumper, continues to pile up honors on the track.

At the annual Eastern States Meet held Sunday at Randalls Island, Miles won the 100 meters in 10.8 and finished fourth in the long jump with a leap of 21-8½ -- two inches better than his previous best. His 10.8 in the 100 tied his fastest time for that event.

Teammate Pete Sharpless was second in the high jump with a 6-8 effort.

Greener again had the big bat, going 3-for-4 and batting in three runs in an 8-3 victory over McCorristin.

Greener rapped two singles and a double while Anthony Bevilacqua had a single and double for the victors. Hun scored three in the third and wrapped it up with four more in the fifth. Nick Persichetti got the win.

PHS VS. MONTCLAIR

In State Lacrosse Semi-Final. Princeton High School's attempt to win a berth in the prestigious Coaches Tournament failed last week by the slimmest of margins when it lost, 7-6, in a second sudden-death overtime period to Summit.

But the season is far from over for the Little Tigers. They were scheduled to play highly rated Montclair Tuesday – unless Coach Bill Cirullo was successful in an attempt to have the game postponed for 24 hours. The winner of that contest will in all likelihood meet Columbia for the state championship.

Playing without one of its top scorers, Ian Broadwater, PHS led Summit Thursday, 4-2 at the half and then went ahead, 5-2, early in the third period. The home team, however, tied it at 5 at the end of the period and then forced the game into overtime when it scored with three minutes left to play after PHS had taken the lead again, 6-5.

The first three-minute overtime was scoreless. Summit then scored off an unsettled play in the second OT for the win -- its 46th shot on goal. Cirullo said that PHS goal Mark Miller played an outstanding game in front of the cage ... "But you can't stop an avalanche."

"We missed Broadwater," he said. "We didn't have any time to work on an offense without him. But that's no excuse. We didn't have it going down the stretch. We didn't have the intensity."

Broadwater had been hurt two minutes into a game with North Hunterdon two days earlier. X-rays revealed he suffered a badly sprained shoulder.

Scoring for PHS against Summit were Alex Versfeld, who had a pair of goals; Steve Budd, Chris Gabrielsen, Steve McDonald and Jimmy Cantrill. Chris Harford had four assists. "We had trouble defensively all game long," commented Cirullo. The loss left PHS with a 9-5 record.

18-1 Laugher. Cirullo described Princeton's 18-1 victory over North Hunterdon as a joke. PHS led, 14 to 1, at intermission.

"It was a combination of just how good we can be and how bad they were," he said. "We were really moving the ball."

Cirullo played everybody and tried every combination. An indication of the mismatch was the six goals scored by PHS freshmen. Matty Kinnan had three and two assists, Willie Whittaker scored twice aod Scott Gabrielsen added a single goal.

Harford, the Little Tigers' deft playmaker who set a school record for total assists a few games back, was only in the game about 10 of the regulation 40 minutes, Cirullo reported, but in that brief span he assisted on six PHS goals and scored one himself.

"We could have scored 30 goals," said Cirullo, who would have settled for just one more in the game against Summit.

ROUSING FINISH

For PHS Tennis Team. "The kids really put it all together the last few days of the season," said PHS tennis coach Joe Diefenbach Monday, after his Little Tiger net team had come within one match of being the overall state champion.

In the semi-final round in the All States Tournament held Monday at university courts, PHS, the Group 2 state champion, defeated Group 1 champion Kennelon, the top-ranked team in the state, 3-2. In the afternoon, it lost, 4-1, to Group 4 champion Cherry Hill.

PHS finished 18-3. Its participation in the All States final matched the highest round the Little Tigers have ever attained in post-season competition.

Scott Clark was the lone PHS winner against Cherry Hill, winning easily, 6-2, 6-0. He finished the season undefeated in 20 matches and is 74-4 over four seasons as Princeton's top singles player all four years. He is participating in the singles tournament for top players in the state.

Against Kinnelon, Clark won 6-4, 6-4. A key win, said Diefenbach, was Roger Dinella winning the number three singles after losing the first set at love. He came back to win his match, 6-4, 6-2. Roger Carlson and Keith Goldfeld won the number two doubles to give PHS the match. Kinnelon had entered the contest unbeaten.

The kids really got up after the Hopewell win," said Diefenbach. "They had us at match point four or five times."

David Yim and Andy Goodyear were two who exemplified Princeton's refusal to die at the hands of Hopewell who had defeated PHS twice before this year. In a tie-breaker for the number one doubles match, Yim and Goodyear fell behind, 4-1, but rallied to win, 5-4.

By defeating Hopewell, 3-2, PHS became the Central Jersey Group 2 champion.

Four times last week, PHS took to the court against top teams from around the state and four times the Blue and White walked off a winner, culminating in a 5-0 victory over Montvale Saturday afternoon at the Princeton University courts to win the Group Two state championship.

Earlier in the morning, the Little Tigers had edged the southern Group 2 champions, Haddonfield, 3-2. In both matches, all three PHS singles players won. Heading the list was Clark, Princeton's number one singles player for the past four years, who was not extended in either match. "He may well be the best player in the state," said Diefenbach.

Against Montvale, Clark defeated Ken Abare, 6-4, 6-2. Richard Diefenderfer won his number two singles match, 6-3, 6-1, while Dinella won, 6-3, 6-2. The doubles pairings had an even easier time of it, Yim and Goodyear winning, 6-1, 6-1,

MAJOR FACTOR: Scott Clark's 20-0 record was a big reason why the PHS tennis team had an 18-3 season.

and Goldfeld and Carlson triumphing, 6-1, 6-0.

Haddonfield, which had stopped PHS last year in its unsuccessful state title bid, won both doubles, Goodyear - Yim bowing in a hard-fought three setter. But Clark maintained his unbeaten record this year with a 6-0, 6-1 victory over Todd Fricke; Diefenderfer won, 6-2, 6-1, and Dinella sealed it with a 6-4, 6-2 win.

Revenge Against Hopewell. To reach the state competition, PHS had to defeat Hopewell Valley in the Central Jersey Group two championship round, a title it had won three of the previous four years. PHS won, 3-2.

It had to be the most satisfying win of the campaign for PHS. Twice before this year, in regular season competition, Hopewell had upset PHS by the same 3-2 score. It marked the first time PHS had been defeated by a Mercer County team since formal competition began in the sport. When the Bulldogs won again to clinch the Colonial Valley Conference championship, PHS was pointing to a probable third meeting in the NJSIAA competition.

To get past HV, the Little Tigers needed a win in the doubles where the Bulldogs have been strong. Yim and Goodyear came through but not without a spirited battle. They defeated Marty Harmon and Steve Paige, 6-4, 2-6, 7-6 – the tie breaker going 5-4. Harmon and Paige had defeated Yim and Goodyear earlier this spring. Clark and Diefenderfer both won their singles matches to give PHS its measure of revenge.

Two days earlier, PHS had defeated Holmdel, 4-1, in the Central Jersey Group 2 semi-finals.

Clark won in straight sets as did both PHS doubles teams. Diefenderfer lost the first set, 5-7, to Holmdel's Kevin Welch, but came back to take the next two, 6-4, 6-2. Holmdel's lone point came in the number three singles where Rich Collick defeated Dinella, 6-3, 6-2.

FIRST TWO GAMES WON

By Sweet Jersey Corn. The Sweet Jersey Corn A.C. Women's Softball team opened its season in the Mercer County "A" League with two victories.

The first victim was Blue Max, last year's "B" League champions. The Corn unleashed a 19-hit attack to bury Blue Max by a score of 20-6. Clare Baxter, Dee Pearce and Pam Carone combined for 11 hits.

The next opponent was Scotty's Restaurant. Last year's A League playoff winners. With Scotty's leading, 4-3, in the fifth inning, Carol Sadley's double brought in two runs and the Corn went on to score a 6-4 win.

On Thursday, the Corn faced defending League champions Guys and Dolls in a game that was called because of darkness after nine innings with the score tied, 3-3. Lisa Jablonski's throw home from center field to catcher Denise Foley in the bottom of the seventh cut down what would have been the winning run for Guys and Dolls.

Pam Carone pitched both wins for the Corn and Dee Pearce leads the hitting with a spectacular .833 average on ten hits in twelve at-bats, including two doubles and two triples.

The coming week features games against undefeated league-leading Three Seasons on Thursday and against defending State Champion Al's Gals on Tuesday. All games are at Mercer County Park at 6:30.

LOCKENMEYER CAPTAIN

For 1981 in Baseball. Mark Lockenmeyer, ace of the Princeton pitching staff and one of the team's top hitters for the past two seasons, has been elected captain of the 1981 baseball squad.

Lockenmeyer, a junior righthander from Manasquan, finished the year with a 4-4 record and a 3.45 ERA and had a one-hitter and a two-hitter to his credit.

Lockenmeyer, one of the leading quarterback candidates for Princeton football this fall, also distinguished himself at the plate. His .380 average over 29 games ranked fourth on this year's team.

Over his three-year varsity career, Lockenmeyer shows a won-lost record of 9-9 with a 2.97 ERA. At the plate he holds a .330 career batting average.

and veterans, and the Walson Army Hospital volunteer program." Today, the Red Cross has project "Home" for returning veterans.

"Drug addiction" is what they called it in 1968 and there was one agency. Today, it's "drug abuse" and there are six, including Corner House, a youth service which didn't even exist in 1968.

A newcomer to this directory is Gamblers Anonymous, and you'll find social workers who predict this will be coming out of the closet – or out of the casino – more and more in the 1980's.

You may also find, as the decade moves on, that it's easier to counsel with your counsellor than it used to be. Evening hours are now scheduled as families with two working parents come to agencies for help. Family Service in Hightstown is open Mondays through Thursdays until 9, Corner House every night except Friday, Saturday and Sunday until 9.

AWARDS LISTED

By AHMH. The Association for Advancement of the Mentally Handicapped (AAMH) held its sixth annual awards dinner at the Nassau Inn. The evening highlights the achievements of members, as well as people in the community who have supported the agency in some outstanding manner.

Audrey Peterson and James Link received the Hackney Award, the highest honor of the evening and given to the member or members who have made outstanding progress during the year. Princeton University received the "Employer of the Year Award," which was accepted by Alan Mosely. George Malick, owner of Mike's Steak House in Trenton, received "Supervisor of the Year."

Amy Wechler and Robert Sabo were awarded special citations as outstanding support people in outside agencies. Edward Chamberlain, operator of Holly House Boarding Home in Cranbury, received the agency's housing award, along with Benjamin Kahn of Wiggins Street. Outstanding volunteer awards went to Mrs. Frieda Rockoff, Mrs. Lyla Barondess, Mrs. Marie Signora and Mrs. Betty McQueen.

REUNION PLANNED

Of All Sacred Heart Alumnae. Stuart Country Day School has invited all Sacred Heart alumnae living in the New Jersey area to the first regional reunion to be held on Sunday, June 8, at noon. The gathering will bring together women who have attended Sacred Heart schools in the United States and abroad, from Budapest to San Francisco.

Because, as Stuart Headmistress Sister Joan Magnetti points out, one Sacred Heart school is always "home" for alumnae of others, Stuart wants to bring together the large number of graduates living nearby. Stuart, founded in Princeton in 1963, is one of the youngest institutions in the international network of schools and colleges. All are under the direction of the Religious of the Sacred Heart, whose tradition of teaching dates back to 1800.

On June 8, a noon Mass, preceeding lunch, will be conducted by Rev. Donald L. Magnetti, S.J., of New York City and brother of the headmistress.

Those interested in attending are invited to call Virginia Maddock of Trenton at 882-0195, or Sheila Power von Zumbusch of Princeton at 924-6480. Princeton residents serving on the reunion committee include Iris Flournoy, Ann Conley O'Neill, Barbara Boggs Sigmund, Christine Cortellessa Leahy, and Joan Watson O'Donaghue. Patricia Smith O'Hara of Pennington is also on the reunion committee.

PLANTS ARE TOPIC

Of Watersheds Session. The Stony Brook-Millstone Watersheds Association will hold a session on "Edible and Poisonous Plants" on Thursday at 4 at the Watersheds Reserve in Hopewell Township. Program director Bill Anderson will lead the 1½ hour program.

Participants will obtain information on the numerous' plants in the area, learning how to identify helpful ones as well as those that should be avoided. Tips on how to use certain wild plants as foods will also be given.

The fee is $1 for members and $2 for non-members. For further information call 737-3735.

GUIDES SOUGHT

By Historical Society. The Historical Society is looking for volunteer guides – people who enjoy meeting the public and would like to learn about Princeton and share this learning with visitors to Bainbridge House.

The Society will conduct a special program to train new volunteer guides this Monday and again June 16. The first program will be held from 10-12 in Pierce Hall, Trinity Church, 33 Mercer Street, and will consist of an introduction to the activities of the Society and a talk on "The Growth of Princeton" by Constance Greiff, president of the Historical Society.

Information on guiding, shop-keeping procedures, the Society's activities and the history of Bainbridge House will be distributed. After each new volunteer has had a chance to serve at least one two-hour shift with an experienced guide and to peruse the information, the second program will be held Monday, June 16, from 10-12 as a review and discussion session.

Skills in typing, fund-raising, carpentry, historical research, mending, publicity, mounting exhibits, hospitality, cataloguing and - or willingness to learn are welcome. Monthly meetings for volunteers are held from September to June with speakers, films, workshops, or visits to nearby historic sites. Volunteers are also needed in the summer when the number of visitors is the greatest.

There is no fee for the training program, however guides are encouraged to become members of the Society at $12.50 for a single and $20 for a family membership. To register, call the Society at 921-6748 weekdays 10-4.

PEDALLING TO VICTORY? That's the hope of these two Democratic candidates for Borough Council. Rob McChesney was appointed to fill a vacant Council seat last year, and will be biking—er, running—on his own this fall. His running mate is Council's president Nelson van den Blink, seeking a third term.
